DEGREES PRESENTED LARGEST CLASS IN SCHOOL'S HISTORY

Dr. Theodore G. Soares, Commencement Orator, Challenges Graduates to Task of Understanding Changing Moralities—Five Honorary Degrees Awarded—Carl Hahn Receives Pershing Medal.

With the solemn yet colorful ceremony traditional to commencement exercises, the University of Nebraska conferred degrees on 876 graduates Saturday morning.

The class was the largest in the 60 years of the university's life and the crowd which attended the services in its honor likewise was the largest in the history of the school. Five thousand people or more filled the auditorium floor and most of the balcony seats.

"Your grandsons will be ashamed of you some day," the graduates were told by the commencement speaker, Dr Theodore G. Soares. "I don't know why. You don't know why. But it's our supreme duty to find out why."

Dr. Soares' conclusion was, "the most serious mistake that any man can make is to fail to see the old moralities that are dying and the new moralities that are coming to birth in his time. The stupid man is he who does not see, the wicked man is he who does not care, the righteous man is he who looks for the new moralities, looks for them eagerly, as the watcher looks for the morning."

Grant Honorary Degrees.

Five honorary degrees were conferred on Malcolm Glen Wyer, dean of the library school of the University of Denver; Jay Brownlee Davidson, head of the department of agricultural engineering at Iowa State college; Harold Van Buren Magonigle, noted architect and sculptor; Grace Abbott, head of the federal children's bureau, and Willford Isbell King, professor of economics in New York university.

The Pershing medal for the best all around soldier-student was awarded to Carl Hahn of Twin Falls, Ida. This medal, given by General John J. Pershing to a senior member of the Pershing rifles, was pinned on Hahn by Miss May Pershing, sister of the donor.

A fair crowd lined R street and Fourteenth street to watch the procesion from Twelfth and R streets to the coliseum. The University R. O. T. C. band, playing martial music, led the parade. Then came the graduates, several blocks of them, clad in caps and gowns and walking four abreast. The faculty members, wearing brightly colored hoods, indicative of their rank, over their sombre gowns, and honored guests concluded the procession.

Officials on Stage.

To the accompaniment of music by the university fine arts band, which was located in the west balcony, the graduates slowly filed into the coliseum, filling up nearly half the floor space. Faculty members, regents and honored guests took their places on the stage, attractively banked with flowers.

Chancellor Edgar Albert Burnett presided over the program which was opened by the invocation given by the chaplain, Dr. Paul Johnston. The fine arts band played the overture, "Masaniello" by D. F. E. Auber and then Dr. Soares gave his address. "Changing Moralities" was the subject of the speaker, who is a

King of Siam's Sight Completely Restored; Tries New Spectacles

PURCHASE, N. Y., June 6—(AP)—King Prajadhipok of Siam tried on his new spectacles yesterday and was overjoyed to discover that he could read even fine print, his father-in-law, Prince Svasti, said today. Physicians said the sight of his right eye from which a cataract was removed has been completely restored.

TRIBUTE PAID E. J. FAULKNER

Eulogized As Leader In The Community By Rev. Johnston.

Funeral services for Edwin J. Faulkner, president of the Woodman Accident Co., who died suddenly Thursday night of a heart attack were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home, 4100 South street. Rev. Paul C. Johnston officiated.

Speaking of Mr. Faulkner as a man possessing an affectionate nature, a genuine religious faith and a fine capacity for making friends, Dr. Johnston praised the manner in which he so generously used the talents he possessed.

Dr. Johnston commented on his work in the church as remarkable, since he was an important factor in the construction of the new First Presbyterian church of which he was a member at the time of his death. He spoke of him as a leader in the community and one whose loss would be greatly felt.

Active pallbearers were Tom Woods, Victor Krause, Verne Hedge, Pace Woods, Leonard Flansburg, Dr. Ben Schwartz, Earle Fost and Al DuTeau. Honorary pallbearers were Charles Spangler, M. E. Lindberg, T. S. Allen, George Holmes, A. R. Talbot, Mark Woods, Cedric Potter, Richard Rogers and Harry Grainger.

Interment was made in Wyuka.

Oklahoma Pastor Is Shot to Death

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 6—(AP)—Rev. W. J. Brown, a Baptist preacher who took up the ministry three years ago after an accident crippled him, was shot to death as he and Mrs. Brown approached the front door of their home here last night. Sam Rittenberry, Brown's brother-in-law, was held for questioning.

COURT AWARDS COTNER $10,000

Kansas High Tribunal Sustains Note Given In Campaign.

TOPEKA, Kas., June 6—(AP)—The Kansas Supreme court affirmed today the order of the Washington county District court awarding Cotner college, Bethany, Neb., a $10,000 judgment against the estate of William D. Johnson on a note signed by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson prior to their deaths.

The note was given to the college during a fund raising campaign, but Johnson, in his will, directed that the note be revoked.

CAVE-IN FATAL TO 5 WORKERS PHILADELPHIA

Laborers Perish 70 Feet Below Street Level; Others Injured.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6—(AP)—Five workmen, working in caisson holes seventy feet below the street level, were killed in a cave-in early today and a policeman was fatally injured when a patrol wagon, enroute to the scene, crashed into a truck.

The workmen, all negroes, were entombed when the side wall of an excavation for a thirty-two-story office building collapsed.

Five other workmen were injured and forty endangered as tons of rock and debris fell into the pit.

The dead patrolman was Elmer Patterson, 45. He died of a fractured skull. Other patrolmen were slightly injured in the crash.

LINCOLN PEOPLE HURT AS CAR GOES DOWN EMBANKMENT

Word has reached Lincoln that Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Craig of Des Moines, Ia., met with an automobile accident near Council Bluffs when their car went down a 35 foot embankment. Mr. and Mrs. Craig left Lincoln Friday morning, accompanie by their niece, Frances Ninneman. All three of the occupants of the car were injured and are in a hospital at Council Bluffs, but it is not thought that any of the injuries will prove serious.

DAVEY RESIDENT HANGS HIMSELF

Alexander Frank Found Hanging From Rafters Of Building.

Alexander J. Frank, 65, resident of Davey for more than fifty years, was found dead, shortly after noon Saturday, hanging from the rafters of an outbuilding behind the home of Joe Skaar, Davey, with whom he had been rooming. John Hansen, banker at Davey, who communicated with Sheriff Hensel, said that it was apparent Frank had hanged himself. Deputy Sheriff Charles Hughart went to Davey to investigate.

According to Hansen, Frank had been despondent over poor health for the past several months. A bachelor, he lived with his mother until her death about a year ago, since which time he had been staying at the Skaar home. He has no relatives as far as has been ascer-

M'CORMICK AND MRS. STILLMAN ON HONEYMOON

Father Of Groom Says Marriage Has His Entire Approval.

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—The former Mrs. Anne U. Stillman and her new husband, Fowler McCormick, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, were honeymooning in seclusion today happy in Harold F. McCormick's approval of his son's marriage.

John E. Mack, counsel for the bride, said the couple had gone to Easthampton, Long Island, though there were reports they would visit the bride's Canadian camp.

James A. Stillman, from whom the bride obtained a divorce secretly in Poughkeepsie on Thursday, left on the Olympic early today for Europe. He vigorously denied he had married again. It was on the Olympic that he and Mrs. Stillman left for a second honeymoon in 1926 after sensational divorce proceedings had been dropped.

Wed At Rockefeller Estate.

Mrs. Stillman, who is 52, was married to McCormick, twenty years her junior in a private ceremony at John D. Rockefeller's estate in Pocantico Hills, N. Y., yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Witschief, Mack said. Her son, James, and her daughter-in-law were present, as was Mack.

For six years, since the Stillmans' marital troubles became front page news, McCormick had been mentioned as a possible suitor.

Mrs. Stillman had ridiculed this.

BERLIN APPEAL SAYS LIMIT HAS BEEN REACHED

"We Must Call Our Last Reserves and Tell World We Have Reached Limit of Our Capacity to Bear Privations," Says Statement to People — Emergency Tax Decrees Calculated to Yield $400,000,000 Announced.

BERLIN, June 6—(AP)—The time has come for Germany to tell the world that liberation from "unbearable reparations burdens" is imperative, the government declared today in an appeal to the people published simultaneously with a series of new emergency tax decrees calculated to yield nearly $400,000,000 in new revenues.

"We must call our last reserves and tell the world that we have reached the limit of our capacity to bear privations," the appeal declared.

Heavy sacrifices are imperative if the solvency of the nation is to be maintained, it said, pointing out that expectations of an end to the economic crisis this spring were not realized and that Germany alone cannot save herself from the common distress afflicting even the nations which were victorious in the World war.

Purchasing Power Reduced.

Germany's purchasing power, the document said, is diminished by reparations payments and she is compelled to increase her exports

OMAHAN INJURED HERE BY AUTO · MUCH IMPROVED

Eugene Graves, 21, Omaha, who suffered a brain concusion when he was struck by an automobile in Lakeview Friday night was improved Saturday afternoon, Dr. George E. Lewis, city physician, who is attending him at St. Elizabeth's hospital said. Graves still was dizzy and weak from the head injury and numerous minor bruises and lacerations, but his injuries are not believed to be dangerous, Dr. Lewis stated.

R. C. Anderson, 23, 929 G street, told police that the accident occurred as his automobile met a bus. Both the car and the pedestrian were traveling east on West P street. A second car picked up Graves and took him to the hospital.

Four Nebraska Law Graduates Elected to "Order of the Coif"

Perry W. Morton, Lincoln; A. Holmes Baldridge, Oklahoma City; E. Bartlett Boyles, Hot Springs, S. D.; and Harry E. Sackett, jr., Beatrice, have been elected to the Order of the Coif, H. H. Foster, dean of the University of Nebraska college of law announced Saturday. The Order of the Coif is represented at twenty-nine of the leading law schools in America. In point of requirements for admission the order is one of the most exacting of honorary societies, Dean Foster said.

MAN KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

West Nebraska Car Is Ditched When Struck By Another.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., June 6—(AP)—Dave Ziegler, 40, a farmer, was killed instantly here last night and a companion, Nick Valles, 45, was painfully injured when the car occupied by them overturned when struck in the rear by another machine.

Bill Benton, 21, driver of the motor car, and his companion, Elton Bryan, 24, escaped with minor injuries. They were arrested and are held here pending an inquest this afternoon.

Both cars were traveling east on the paved highway when the Benton car hit the other sufficiently hard to swerve it into a ditch.

Ziegler and Valles were pinned beneath the car and Ziegler's skull was crushed.

NEW ORTHOPEDIC HEAD SELECTED

Dr. Floyd A. Alcorn of Haxtun, Colo., to Take Charge Monday.

Hospital's Third Change In Recent Months; Has Qualified.

Dr. Floyd A. Alcorn, of Haxtun, Colo., has been appointed by the board of control as superintendent of the orthopedic hospital and will be here Monday to take charge of the institution, relieving B. A. Finkle who has been acting temporarily for several months. The salary is $2,500 a year, with family maintenance.

The board tentatively selected Dr. Alcorn for the place some time ago, but the official appointment was delayed until he could qualify as a medical practitioner in this state under its basic science law. He is a graduate of the University of Colorado merical college and has been in practice in that state since 1920, but in order to obtain a Nebraska license he had to pass examinations here in bacteriology and hygiene, two branches not specifically required in Colorado. This he has now done, and a basic science certificate has been issued him. Dr. Alcorn is 36 years of age.

Third Recent Change

This is the third change that has taken place in the orthopedic hospital superintendency in the last six or seven months. Dr. J. H. Mathai, former superintendent, resigned last fall following a complaint lodged with the board of control by members of the medical profession, that he had never been licensed to practice in this state. J. J. Gerkins of Chicago was then

FIVE GRANTED UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA HONORARY DEGREES SATURDAY

JAY B. DAVIDSON (Engineer)

DR. WILLFORD I. KING (Economist)

GRACE ABBOTT (Welfare Worker)

MALCOLM G. WYER (Librarian)

H. VAN BUREN MAGONIGLE (Architect)

Five individuals of national prominence, all of whom have been active at some time in the life of this state, were granted honorary degrees at the sixtieth annual commencement exercises of the University of Nebraska Saturday morning.

Those honored were:

Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau, United States department of labor, Washington, D. C., granted the doctor of laws degree.

Jay B Davidson, professor and head of the agricultural engineering department of Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., doctor of engineering.

Dr. Willford I. King, professor of economics, New York university, New York City, doctor of laws.

H. Van Buren Magonigle, architect, painter, sculptor, and writer of New York City, doctor of architecture.

Malcolm G. Wyer, librarian of the Denver public library and dean of the school of library science, University of Denver, Denver, Colo., doctor of library science.

Miss Abbott Born in State.

Miss Abbott is well known to Nebraskans. She was born in Grand Island and graduated from Grand Island college. She did graduate work at the University of Nebraska and received her master's degree from the University of Chicago. She became director of the immigrants' Protective league of Chicago in 1909 and went to live at Hull house, the settlement established by Jane Addams. Her first national service for children was as director of the child labor division of the children's bureau, to which post she was appointed in 1917. After the first federal child labor law was held unconstitutional, she held other governmental positions until August, 1921, when she was appointed to her present position.

In August, 1930, Miss Abbott was sent to Geneva by the department

As Rogers Sees It

HOLLYWOOD, June 6—We used to always be talking and "sloganing" about "back to normalcy." Well, that's right where we are now, and where we are going to stay, so we might just as well get used to it. It's taught us one important fact—that we haven't got as many "big men" as we thought we had. We used to think every head of a big organization was a "big man," and he was, as long as everything was running in spite of him. But when old man "Get-Back-to-Earth" hit us in the jaw, why we didn't have an industry that shrunk like the "big man" industry did. Big men are just like stocks now; they are selling at just what they are worth, no more.

Yours, WILL.

Polar Sub Runs Into Dense Fog; All Well Aboard

BOSTON, June 6—(I. N. S.)—The submarine Nautilus, crossing the Atlantic preparatory to an attempt to go under the ice cap at the North Pole, was running today through a dense fog 238 miles east of Cape Cod light.

A radiogram to eastern coast guard headquarters from the coast guard cutter Ponchartrain was timed 9 a. m., E. D. T., and gave the position of the ice patrol boat and the Nautilus as latitude 51:58 north and longitude 64:57 west.

The Nautilus sailed from Provincetown, on the tip of Cape Cod, on her great adventure Thursday at 11:20 o'clock. During the first day she experienced fair weather. Good weather continued with calm seas during last night. But today the usual forenoon fog off the fishing banks was encountered.

The Nautilus was reported slightly in the lead of the Ponchartrain.

The submersible and escort had been running at approximately eight knots, although the cruising speed of the Nautilus is ten knots.

All was reported well aboard today.

CAPONE FACES 32 YEAR TERM IF CONVICTED

Released On Bond After Indicted for Income Tax Evasion.

GUZIK, GANGSTER AIDE, IN PRISON

Income of Over Million In Six Years Charged Concealed by Al.

CHICAGO, June 6— (AP) —The chief of gang chiefs — Alphonse Capone—today faced the possibility of a thirty-two year penitentiary sentence and a fine of $80,000 for alleged evasion of the government income tax.

This is the maximum sentence possible if he is convicted on the charges on which he surrendered yesterday, following his indictment by a federal grand jury.

He posted a $50,000 bond and was released. There were two indictments. One was returned yesterday. Another was voted March 15, but was suppressed. They contained six felony and two misdemeanor counts, and alleged a government tax claim of $215,080.45.

Two-Year Investigation.

The indictments marked the culmination of two years of investigation under the direction of A. P. Madden, chief of the special intelligence department of the internal revenue department during which Madden said that more than 1,000 persons were interviewed. A total income of $1,038,654.84 during the years of 1924 to 1929, inclusive, was charged. Federal agents, however, said this did not represent Capone's income, but only the sums which could be definitely traced.

Date of Trial Uncertain.

There was no indication as to the exact date of the gang leader's trial, but United States Attorney George E. Q Johnson, who has won a conviction against every gangster he has tried for income tax frauds, announced that he was ready for the supreme test against Capone.

The indictments constituted but one of a series of blows the government has struck at Capone, whose income from his liquor, vice and gambling interests are reputed to have reached enormous sums.

Within a few hours after the news of Capone's indictment became public, Sam Guzik, one of his lieutenants, was on his way to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., to serve a sentence of a year and a day for an income tax violation.

Republican Senator Hits Raskob Loans

Claims Democrats Are 'Mortgaging' Party After Statement Shows Deficit of $707,054.

WASHINGTON, June 6 — (AP) — The loans of Chairman Raskob to the democratic national committee were termed an increasing mortgage "upon the once proud party of Jefferson and Jackson" by Senator Hatfield, republican, West Virginia.

Hatfield made the assertion in a statement through the republican national committee shortly after the democratic national committee made its quarterly report to the clerk of the house. The report showed the democratic committee's total unpaid obligations amounted to $707,054, of which $295,250 is due to Raskob for loans.

The report noted Raskob had loaned $40,000 to the committee in the quarter ending May 31, while receipts were listed at $41,721 and expenditures at $42,134, leaving a balance in the treasury of $10,441. Loans amounting to $402,250 to the County Trust company of New York were listed, along with unpaid interest amounting to $9,554.

Three Elected To National Honorary Dental Fraternity

Election of three members of the senior class of the dental college of the University of Nebraska to membership in Omicron Kappa Upsilon was announced at a college convocation Friday afternoon. The three are the high ranking scholastically in the graduating class.

Carl Schlumberger of Friend, Raynold Vlasak of Prague and Roscoe Baker of Sidney are the members of the national honorary dental fraternity. All are members of the Delta Sigma Delta fraternity.

DAWES CONVINCED CONDITIONS BETTER

CHICAGO, June 6—(AP)—Sparks flew from the underslung pipe of Ambassador Charles G. Dawes when somebody said something to him yesterday about business depression.

"Did you read what I said when I got off the boat in New York?" he demanded.

"Well, that's what I think. Here and there improvement is taking place, but there has been so much fear and gloom tht people do not realize that conditions are gradually improving."

3 U. S. Clergymen Unable Get Visas To Visit Russia

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—Soviet Russia has barred at least three clergymen from visiting that country this summer, it became known today.

Besides John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community church, in New York, Rev. Dr. David R Williams, Unitarian minister of Rochester, N. Y., and Rev. Dr. Doremus Scudder, Congregationalist missionary, have failed to obtain visas.

Dr. Williams is a brother of Albert Rhys Williams, a communist. Russian trading and traveling agencies in New York refused to comment.

of state to represent the United States at the meeting of the League of Nations committee on the extension of the inquiry on traffic in women and children in the east. She is a member of many boards and committees dealing with children.

Davidson Nebraska Graduate.

Professor Davidson, who was granted the honorary degree of doctor of engineering is a native Nebraskan. He was born at Douglas, Neb., in February, 1880. He received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the state university in 1904 and his degree in agricultural engineering in 1914. He served the university in various capacities until graduation and was instructor in farm mechanics from 1904 to 1905. He was named assistant professor of agricultural engineering at Iowa State college in 1905 and remained with that school until 1915, when he went to the University of California for four years as professor of agricultural engineering. In 1919 he returned to Iowa State college. He was a member of the American commission that visited Russia in 1929 to report on a colonization project in the far east. He is the author of a number of books and articles in his field and designer of several pieces of agricultural engineering apparatus.

Dr. King, now professor of economics at New York university, spent much of his boyhood in western Nebraska. His father, Joseph M. King, combined the practice of law with farming and was the first county judge in Scotts Bluff county. When 17 Dr. King came to Lincoln and after the necessary work at Wallace's Preparatory school, entered the University of Nebraska. In 1905 he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and received the A. B. degree.

The next four years he taught science in various high schools. In 1910 he received his master's degree from Wisconsin and three years later his doctor of philosophy degree from the same school. He continued for some time at Wisconsin teaching statistics and economics. In 1917 he went to South Carolina to study certain economic forces and in 1920 he moved to New York City to join the staff of the national bureau of economic research. In 1927 he joined the faculty of the school of commerce of New York university, and since that time has been in charge of the work in statistics at that school. Dr. King has written various articles and books dealing with economic subjects, as well as serving on various research groups.

Magonigle Noted Architect.

Mr. Magonigle is best known to residents of Lincoln as the architect of the new Plymouth Congregational church. Considered a distinguished practitioner of the art of architecture in America today he has a record of high professional standing.

Educated in the public schools of New York, Mr. Magonigle studied in the offices of various architects and at Rome until 1897 when he began the independent practice of architecture. Since that time he has served as architect of monuments and memorials in New York City; Canton, O.; Kansas City; Tokyo, Japan; Brooklyn; New Britain, Conn.; Pittsburgh, Detroit, Naugatuck, Conn.; Norfolk, Va.; and Indianapolis, Ind., in addition to many public and private schools, residences, clubhouses, and churches.

Mr. Wyer is well known to former university students and to Lincoln residents. He served as librarian at the university from 1913 to 1924. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and received his library training at the New York state library school. Following his graduation he became assistant librarian at his alma mater, Minnesota. He latter became librarian of the University of Iowa and also at Colorado college. On January 17, 1931, his appointment as dean of the new school of library science at Denver university was announced. In his work as dean of this school, he also continues as head of the Denver library system.

Money Contributed To Feed Poor School Children On Coast

LOS ANGELES, June 6—(AP)—Voluntary contribution to the lunch fund for poor school children increased today and 8,000 youngsters who went hungry yesterday noon entered the week-end holidays with hope bright that Monday would not be blue.

Lunches were furnished yesterday for approximately 2,000 children and cash donations reached a total of $1,355 since Mrs. J. K. Lytle, president of the Parent-Teacher federation, announced its funds were exhausted and 10,000 children who had been given lunches and milk could no longer be provided for.

Frieda Baeder and David Fowler Awarded Honors At Commencement.

Frieda A. Baeder, was awarded the scholarship medal and David Fowler was given the Harry Sidney Dobbins medal for athletics, scholarship and good sportsmanship, at the fifty-eighth annual commencement exercises of Lincoln high school at St. Paul church Friday evening when 451 graduates received their diplomas. Approximately 2,500 persons attended.

"We must teach that the day of force and bloodshed is over, we must educate toward a broader vision and a greater appreciation of values, and finally, when public opinion is molded to depise war, there will be no motive that can draw people into battle," declared Selma Goldstein, a senior speaker, who talked on "What We Can Do for Peace." "Then and only then, will the ideal of world peace become a reality," she continued.

She said that before people can make war disappear they must thoroughly understand the material conditions and those attitudes of mind that make wars possible in the world today. The most important of these she declared is the militaristic educational system that exists in the nation.

"Affairs of Honor."

"There is a general belief that the only way to settle affairs of national honor is through war," she said. "At one time it was thought that the only way to settle affairs of honor between men was through dueling. But now it is a well known fact that a man's honor depends upon the good opinion of his fellow men; a nation's honor upon the good opinion of its fellow nations; and this good opinion can no longer be gained through the possession of stronger military force."

Stedman On Russia.

Charles Steadman, the other senior speaker, said, in his talk on "Should the United States Recognize Soviet Russia?" "When Russia can show that her government does represent the will of the Russia people; when Russia recognizes the debt which she owes us; and when Russia has demonstrated decisively that she will keep the agreements into which she enters, then the United States should recognize Soviet Russian and not until then."

"Russia's economic system is in a state of chaos and her productivity is so low that despite the fact that the Bolsheviks desire trade with the United States they have nothing to offer in return," he said.

Award Rotary Prizes.

First prize in the Rotary contest for girls making their own graduation dresses was awarded to Florence Buxman, Lydia Brownlee was awarded second prize and Anabelle Place and Delores Quinn won honorable mention.

Diplomas were presented by Dr. B. F. Bailey, president of the board of education, and H. C. Mardis presented the 1931 class. The music was furnished by the Lincoln high school orchestra, girl's octet and string quartet. The Harry Sidney Dobbins medal was presented by Paul F. Good, a member of the board of education; the scholarship medal was presented by Miss Olivia Pound assistant principal of Lincoln high school, and the Rotary club prizes were presented by H. P. Davis, president of the Rotary club.

Rev. Leslie R. Smith gave the invocation and benediction.

MRS. GRACE MEEK DIES; PROMINENT AS CHURCH WORKER

Mrs. Grace Meek, 68, active in church work in the state for more than fifty years and a resident of Lincoln since 1913, died at 6:45 o'clock Friday evening at her home, 1220 North Forty-sixth street. Born near Nebraska City she was associated with Sunday school work in the Congregational church of that city.

At the time of her marriage she moved to Peru where she was active in the work of Methodist church. In Lincoln she belonged to Warren Methodist church where she was superintendent of the Sunday school for many years and was also associated with the Women's Foreign Missionary society. She is survived by her husband, Milton; one son, Carleton and one sister, Mrs. Jacob Huffer, all of Lincoln; two grandchildren and one great grandchild. The body is at Splain and Schnell's.

PHYSICIANS NAMED BY COURT SOON TO EXAMINE A. B. FALL

WASHINTON, June 6—(AP)—Albert B. Fall, is to be examined soon by two physicians appointed by a District of Columbia Supreme court judge to determine whether he is able to come to Washington to begin a term of a year in prison.

Chief Justice Wheat is to make the appointments as early as possible. The examination of the former interior secretary is to take place in El Paso, Tex.

Yesterday Judge Wheat designated Drs. Felix Miller and R. B. Homan of El Paso to examine the former Harding cabinet member, but countermanded the order upon learning they previously had expressed the opinion Fall was in no condition to undertake the trip.

DR. BARTON TO WED.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6—(AP)—Rev. Dr. George Aaron Barton, 71, one of America's foremost biblical scholars and professor of Semetic languages at the University of Pennsylvania, has obtained a license to wed his secretary, Miss Katherine B. Hagy, 39, of this city. Dr. Barton resides on the grounds of the Protestant Episcopal divinity school, where he is a member of the faculty. Plans for the wedding have not been completed, Dr. Barton said.

New Anti-Saloon League
Wicked Russia, Again
We Get Used to Things
What Is India to Us?
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Some "big men" among the drys observing the rush to wetness think something must be done to offset the big wet names that have come out against prohibition. It worries them to see the republican and democratic candidates for governor, both wet in New Jersey. Thomas A. Edison, Gifford Pinchot and William Gibbs McAdoo are among those that will protect prohibition from its enemies.

The "big ones" are said to feel that the Anti-saloon league and the churches are no longer equal to the task of keeping the dry amendment in the constitution.

That is a mistaken notion. There is more prohibition power in the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches and Sunday schools, than in all the big names in the country. Seperate prohibition from religion and it will be as helpless as a small child lost in a great city.

Britain discovers that Russia employs slave or convict labor, and is shocked, now that Russia undersells Manchester. Russia replies "Well, you pay your workers just enough to keep alive and go on working. What is the difference?"

And Russia continues her sinful practices, actually competing with and underselling the great "capitalistic" countries.

The latest news affects cotton growers. Russia has sold, at Liverpool, 163,000 small bales of cotton, from Turkestan, at $3 a bale below our cheap price.

There may be something in the suggestion of a distinguished British economist that Britain and America lend Russia money, thus making it unnecessary for her to dump goods at any price, to continue her industrial plan.

While Colonel Lindbergh prepares for his trans-Pacific flight which he calls "a vacation trip," Wilkins starts with his submarine for the North pole.

The human mind soon becomes accustomed to whatever happens often. Once torture of witnesses in court and torturing to death of criminals attracted little attention. Now we scarcely look up when airplanes pass, even the sight of a giant dirigible is only mildly exciting.

A courageous man starts for the North pole planning to travel under ice, perhaps 100 feet thick, in his submarine and we say "indeed, so interesting." But in history such feats take their proper places in the story of men's progress from the cave and from the bow and arrow toward civilization.

New York gentlemen, including professional "enemies of England," give a dinner as a long distance testimonial to Gandhi, who "listens in."

One gentleman says this country must help India gain her freedom.

How? If the Hindus and Mohammedans in India cannot stop fighting and murdering each other, must we put Uncle Sam's finger in the door jamb?

There are more than three hundred millions in India, fewer than forty millions in the British islands. India can be free, when she decides to gain her freedom as our ancestors got theirs. One man at the dinner praised Gandhi because "he would sacrifice his nation's hope of independence, rather than commit one act of violence."

Must we go over and commit the acts of violence for him?

Why not make it a rule to let the other nations attend to their business and wars. Providence knows what is best for all and can interfere if it chooses. Since divine wisdom refrains from meddling let us, also, refrain.

Mr. Coolidge, who thinks deeply, quotes Henry Ward Beecher in a statement that our system of government and business is a failure. When Beecher was told that Christianity had failed he replied "it has never been tried."

Mr. Coolidge observes that the Sermon on the Mount is neglected even after 2,000 years of preaching. Our social and religious systems are sound, but we human beings are imperfect.

We are also dull. We have millions in idle money and capacity for production unlimited, and we do not know what to do with the money, storing it in piles of gold.

Tomorrow this government could raise ten billions. More than seven billions were offered Mr. Mellon a few days ago, when he asked for eight hundred million dollars, paying only 3¼ per cent interest.

We have it, but do not know how to use it, all of our intelligence being trained in accumulation, none in distribution.

Pope Pius maintains his firm stand, in the face of hostile government action. After closing all Catholic societies, the action based on charges of political conspiracy against the Fascist government, the vatican is told that clubs for Catholic women may reopen, but not the Catholic clubs for men.

Pope Pius refused this concession, saying it must be all or none.

The sun was still shining in Wall street yesterday. Prices continued crawling timidly upward. Some bears "covered," remembering that there is no limit to the heights to which prices can climb. One man who sold a railroad stock short, because it had climbed two hundred points, in a few days and he "knew it was silly," will never forget his sensations, as it climbed seven hundred points more.

That will not happen just now, however.

DENY LINCOLN WAS 'OBSCENE'

Emil Ludwig, Dr. Clark And Ida M. Tarbell Oppose Brill.

NEW YORK, June 6— (AP) —A woman biographer, a German historian and a psychiatrist, all widely known, were on record today as opposed to Dr. A. A. Brill's theory that Abraham Lincoln was a "Schizoid-manic" personality.

Dr. Brill's contention that Lincoln was a Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde type who succeeded in keeping his baser nature under rigid control was disputed by Ida M. Tarbell, Emil Ludwig, and Dr. L. Pierce Clark.

Miss Tarbell said she never has been able to trace to Lincoln any story that could not be repeated to decent-minded persons. Dr. Brill claims Lincoln had a low taste in humor which descended to the obscene.

Dr. Brill expressed his views in a paper which he delivered before a joint session of the American psychoanalytic and American psychiatrist associations in Toronto, Ontario, yesterday.

"I have sometimes suspected," said Miss Tarbell, "that those who insist on his (Lincoln's) grossness might have been finding what they looked for—and enjoyed—that it was their obscenity rather than his that was behind the story."

NUMEROUS BOATING PERMIT REQUESTS MADE THIS SEASON

Because of the many requests for boating permits that have reached his desk, Commissioner Bair, head of the park department, is expecting to see quite a fleet of privately owned craft on Oak creek park lake this summer. It is also likely that pleasure craft for hire will be available.

Several have asked Mr. Bair whether he would grant a concession, but nothing definite has resulted as he has not asked the council's approval of establishing a boating concession.

Before a private concession can be granted, Mr. Bair stated Friday, it will be necessary for the council to agree on a schedule of prices.

The depth of the water in the lake is to be increased soon according to Mr. Bair. Pumping from Oak creek will start as soon as arranagements can be completed. The increased depth, however, is not expected to make the lake more than 5 or 6 feet deep at the deepest point. That is believed to be sufficient to accommodate the largest craft that anyone will want to put on the lake. It also will be safe, it is pointed out.

'Clean Up' To Start In Coming Two Weeks On Center Parkings

Within the next two weeks park department employes will start mowing and cleaning up the more than eighty-five blocks of center parking in Lincoln. Once it is started the work will not stop until every block has been taken care of, Commissioner Bair, head of the department said.

The center park spaces have been allowed to become rather unkempt looking, Mr. Bair said, "in an effort to smother the dandelions. Because of the grass being cut too short last summer, they almost got the best of us this year, but we believe that by allowing the grass to grow tall it will now be possible to remedy conditions."

When the mowing is started every available man in the department will be used on the work. The Sheridan boulevard and Rathbone road parks will be taken care of first.

Crops Retarded By Low Temperatures

Northeastern Part of State Hit Hardest; Drouth Also Makes Itself Felt There.

Drouth and low temperatures have considerably handicapped crops in northeastern Nebraska, according to E. V. Jones, assistant state and federal agricultural statistician, on his return from an inspection trip in that area.

The first crop of alfalfa was substantially reduced by drouth and low temperatures and growth of oats and barley was retarted, he reported. Rye in Antelope and Holt counties was found in a critical condition because of late freezing temperatures followed by dry weather. Unusual conditions caused it to turn pale. It appeared to be maturing before the normal time.

Harvesting of the first crop of alfalfa in Platte, Madison and Pierce counties was started before the crop began to bloom or make normal growth. Frost damage was evident in discolored leaves and stems in most of the fields in those counties. Oats and barley have not made normal progress although the color is good except in places where freezing temperatures partly killed the crop and caused it to turn brown.

Pastures Set Back.

Wild hay and pastures along the eastern border of the sandhill region were set back by freezing temperatures and lack of rainfall. After an early start, much of the wild grass was frozen and with short rainfall, the crop has been slow in coming on the second time.

Crops in the Loup valleys, especially alfalfa and oats, showed the ill effects of the freeze but moisture conditions were more favorable than in northern counties. Wheat in the central Platte valley, Adams, Clay, Fillmore and Saline counties is in good condition. The unusually thick stands are developing well but are drawing heavily on the soil moisture supplies.

AWAIT ANSWER OF MUSSOLINI

Vatican Challenges Il Duce to Prove Statements Youth Clubs Engaged in Political Activities.

ROME, June 6—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's answer to the vatican's challenge that he prove his statements that youth clubs affiliated with the Catholic acion society had engaged in political activites was awaited with interest today.

Pope Pius himself is understood to have written an editorial in Osservatore Romano yesterday which called on Il Duce to produce the "documents" backing up the accusations. The article spoke with scorn of the fascist party's asserted "respect" for the church and its head.

The fascist organ Lavorto Facista thus far has made the only attempt to demonstrate that the clubs were anti-fascist in character. This was in the form of a purported stenographic report of a meeting of Catholic action leaders. It was later disclaimed by the speakers involved, including Monsignor Pizzardo, people's secretary for extraordinary affairs.

The University of California tennis team will invade Japan this summer for matches with the leading college teams.

Nebraska Woman Is Injured In Train Wreck; All Of Nebraska Receives Generous Supply Moisture

FIVE ARE HURT IN DERAILMENT

Six Burlington Passenger Cars Leave Track Council Bluffs.

Oxford Woman Among Those On the Casualty List.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., June 6—(AP)—Five passengers on a Burlington passenger train, bound from Omaha to Kansas City, were injured, none seriously, when six cars were derailed near here early today and overturned on their sides in a small gully.

The injured, all riding in a chair car, received minor cuts and bruises, and after receiving medical treatment here, continued their journeys on another train.

The engine and three Pullman cars, in which 45 persons were sleeping, remained on the track when the train was brought to a sudden halt by quick appliance of safety apparatus.

About 450 feet of track was torn up. K. W. Fisher, division superintendent of the road at Creston, Ia., said that a broken rail caused the accident.

One of the injured was W. B. Kincaid, 31, Kansas City, who suffered a scuffed knee and a hip bruise.

All passengers, including the injured, were placed in two Pullmans and pulled back to Council Bluffs. After the injured were treated, a new train was made up which crossed the Missouri river to Omaha, and was rerouted to Kansas City through Plattsmouth.

There were four mail and baggage coaches, one day coach, and three Pullmans on the train. The first two cars, apparently pulled off the track when the third left the rail, jolted along for 100 feet. The third coach left the rails almost at right angles, its rear end remaining on the track and its front end jutting into a plowed field. The other baggage coach and the day coach also left the track, as did the front trucks of the first Pullman.

Others injured in the wreck included:

John Roderick, Holtville, Cal.

Allen Ferer, Omaha, bruises.

Mrs. Walter Shepherd, Oxford, Neb., nervous shock.

Burlington officials did not reveal the name of a woman passenger who suffered a sprained ankle.

NANCY PAGE

BY FLORENCE LA GANKE.

Lawn Fetes Never Lose Their Appeal.

A lawn fete was announced at church on Sunday. The younger people were busy dating one another just so soon as services were over. The older members began to apportion the food. At this lawn fete they planned to have lemonade, cake, strawberry ice cream.

The men were elected to string the electric cords from which the electric bulbs and the covering Japanese lanterns would gaily swing in the evening breeze.

The janitor said he thought he could erect the temporary tables out on the lawn and his wife agreed to decorate them with the crepe paper. So everything was set and decided upon but the weather. Here they could do nothing but hope and bother the weather man with their many queries. He promised to do his best. He did, too, even sending a big moon that gave a light that outshone any man-made lanterns.

In making the lemonade the women followed the sensible plan of boiling the water and sugar first. They used six cups water and four cups sugar and boiled the syrup for ten minutes. Then they cooled it.

Next they washed the lemons, three dozen of them, and rolled them on the table under the palms of their hands. This made it easy to get the juice from the lemons, since the rolling broke many of the capsules holding the juice. They sliced lemons and mashed them with wooden potato masher until most of the juice was out. All told they needed five cups of juice. They added juice and lemon slices to syrup, added six quarts water. At serving time they put in large piece of ice. This amount served fifty.

Nancy has other beverages. Write to her, care of this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Ask for her "Beverage" leaflet.

SCOTT - URWILLER WEDDING, RAVENNA

(Special to The Star)

RAVENNA, Neb., June 6 — Miss Effie Mae Scott, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Scott of Ravenna, and William H. Urwiller, son of Samuel Urwiller, sr., also of Ravenna, were married Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Methodist parsonage here, Rev. Austin officiating. Only members of the families were present. Both parties are from well known Ravenna families.

The bride wore a coral pink georgette crepe gown and her bridal bouquet was of pink and white roses. Her only attendant was a sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Scott of Gibbon. Robert Scott served as best man.

After the ceremony the party went to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held, a large wedding cake of pink and white, occupying a conspicuous place on the table. The couple left for a bridal trip in the west and will reside on the groom's farm at St. Michael.

ONLY HALF CROP OF WHEAT IN PROSPECT

Late Freeze Said to Have Had Serious Effect On Fields In Western Part of State.

SIDNEY, Neb., June 6—(AP)—The fertile grain belt comprising the southern tier of panhandle Nebraska counties, where one-sixth of the Nebraska wheat crop is produced, probably will harvest half a crop this year. The opinion has been expressed by farmers and grain experts who claim that a late spring freeze has practically wiped out 50 per cent of the winter wheat stand.

This same condition is reported in other western Nebraska counties and in the principal wheat raising counties of Colorado.

Spring wheat, barley, oats and corn are in normal condition in western Nebraska. Hog raising is on the increase despite the poor market price.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 6—Burlington officials here have confirmed the report that the company plans on closing the stations at Filley and Crab Orchard on the Nebraska City line east of here. Citizens of Crab Orchard have called a mass meeting for Monday evening for the purpose of opposing such action.

OFFICERS WILL GO INTO COURT

Sutton and Albert To Tell Their Stories To Jury.

OMAHA, June 6—(AP)—Court tests arising from the reciprocal arrests here Thursday of Joseph F. Albert, special pohibition investigator, and Paul Sutton, Omaha inspector of detectives, probably will not be conducted until next fall, local law enforcement officials agreed today as both sides began organizing their forces.

Sutton had Albert arrested after a row in Sutton's office Thursday. Shortly afterwards Sutton was arrested on a charge of interfering with a federal officer. Both cases are tentatively scheduled to be threshed out in Federal court before juries.

The federal court jury was dismissed last week and none is now scheduled to convene until next fall. Federal Judge Woodrough will hold court in North Platte next week, and the following week in Norfolk.

Maurice Silverman of St. Paul, chief deputy prohibition administrator for the eighth district, after conferring with both Sutton and Albert, last night announced that "the stories of the two conflict greatly and I see no alternative but to thresh the matter out in court."

"I see no reason why the mission of Albert in Omaha should be kept secret any longer," he said. "He was sent to Omaha to investigate the activities of a man who, according to reports reaching me at St. Paul is the 'big shot' in Omaha bootlegging circles." Silverman supplied the man's name.

Albert today said that he first called on Sutton three weeks ago. "I asked him a number of point blank questions," Albert said.

"From then on Sutton was on my trail. That was why I was arrested. Sutton's story of what happened in his office is all wet."

OMAHA WOMEN ARE STRUCK BY AUTO, ONE BADLY HURT

OMAHA, June 6—(AP)—Two women were injured here late Friday when struck by an auto driven by William Saey, Plattsmouth, Saey who was arrested on charges of reckless driving, said his car skidded on the wet pavement and plunged across the curbing striking the women.

The injured women are Mrs. Tola Saalfeld, 65, Omaha, and Mrs Minnie Saalfeld, 63, Duluth, Minn. They are sisters. Mrs. Tola Saalfeld, hospital attaches said, suffered a fractured skull. The other woman was not seriously hurt.

FREMONT PASTOR SMALLPOX PATIENT, CHURCH IS CLOSED

(Special to The Star).

FREMONT, Neb., June 6 — Conclusion of physicians that Rev. Hal P. Schenck, pastor of the First Methodist church, is suffering from smallpox and not from blood poison, as was first believed, has been followed by quarantining of the First Methodist church. Regular services and presentation of a cantata at the church, prepared for Sunday, have been indefinitely postponed. Rev. Mr. Schenck was moved from the parsonage here late last week to a hospital in Omaha. He will remain in Omaha, it was said.

SEWARD NOTES

(Special to The Star).

SEWARD, Neb., June 6—At a referee's sale Wednesday, 240 acres of farm land belonging to the Bernhard Moorberg estate brought $75 an acre, and was bought by R. S. Norval.

The annual picnic of the old settlers of Seward will be held June 17 at Seward park. From 10 until 11 o'clock the G. A. R. drum corps of Lincoln will play at the courthouse square. A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at the park, after which the following program will be given: Address by President W. S. Beebe; prayer, Rev. R. J. McKenzie; music, Salem choir; address by James Pearson; reading, Mrs. Charles Zinky; sports and races in charge of F. R. Woods.

The Shneebeck and Imig elevator was sold this week, the buyers being Carl Schneebeck and Edward Imig, and the elevator will continue under the same name. Carl Schneebeck has been employed at the elevator for some time, while Edward Imig has been in the employ of the Imig & Son grocery.

Marriage licenses have been issued this week to Seth Scott of Lincoln and Elizabeth Yantzi of Milford, and Josh Miller and Henrietta Barber of Havelock. The latter couple was married by Judge Paul Bek.

Sheriff Greiner received notice that a suit had been filed in Polk county against Alex Noyes and the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company. The plaintiff asks for $25,075.35 on account of an auto accidents near Seward, in which Mrs. Catherine Tongue was killed.

ALMOST SCALPED.

NEMAHA, Neb., June 6—(AP)—Maurice Crissel of Brunswick was seriously injured last night at the William Conger farm, four miles north of Nelligh when he was thrown against the hoist of an automobile wrecker in which he was riding with E. Robertson. He was badly bruised about the body and his scalp nearly torn off.

RESTRICT FIREWORKS.

NEMAHA, Neb., June 6—(AP)—The city council decided this week to enforce the ordinance restricting the sale and use of fireworks on July 4. W. E. Binney was elected chairman of the board to be acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Hewitt.

LICENSED TO WED.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., June 6—Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Evan Riley, 20, Shelton, and Madeline Mercer, 21, Gibbon; S. E. J. Erdmann, 27, Odell, and Loree Gerdes, 24, Wymore.

TO REDUCE LEVY.

PLYMOUTH, Neb., June 6—At a meeting of the village board here this week it was voted to reduce the levy for the coming year. The estimate of expenses in 1930 was $6,503. This was reduced to $3,570, a decrease of almost 38 per cent.

BERKHEIMER MADE GROUP PRESIDENT BANK ASSOCIATION

CHADRON, Neb., June 5—(AP)—B. D. Berkheimer of Gordon was elected president of group six of the Nebraska bankers' association at the organization's annual meeting here Friday. Berkheimer was vice president last year. O. M. Jeffreys of Bassett was named vice president and Guy C. Ellsworth of Rushville was re-elected secretary. The 1932 convention city will be selected by the officers.

A resolution passed by the convention urged all members to arrange, as soon as possible, for service charges to conform with the schedule proposed by the bank management committee of the State Bankers association.

Start Summer Church School Work Monday

Classes Are For Children From 4 to 14 Years; Term Closes July 3.

For the twelfth successive year, the Monday after the close of the public schools will mark the opening of the Lincoln Vacation Church schools. In practically all of them, the sessions will be from 9 to 11:30 or 12 o'clock. The age range of the children will be from 4 to 14 years, and the term will close July 3.

There will be four schools under the supervision of the vacation school committee of the Lincoln Council of Religious Education, of which Mrs. A. E. Wolf is chairman, these being located at Highland Park Presbyterian church on West A; Hawthorne Community on East O, Lincoln Heights Methodist in Belmont, and Normal Community in Normal. The directors of these schools will be Mrs. C. A. Carlson, Mrs. C. E. Keefer, Mrs. Bessie Nelson and Mrs. M. K. Wimer.

The other schools, organized by individual churches or by groups of churches will be held at Westminster Presbyterian, First Plymouth Congregational, Trinity Methodist, First Lutheran, First Presbyterian, Calvary Evangelical, Warren Methodist, First Methodist, Havelock Methodist, Grace Methodist-Second Presbyterian. The last named school includes as co-operating churches Vine Congregational, Second Baptist, Grace Methodist and Second Presbyterian, the intermediate department being held in the last named church and the other three departments in Grace Methodist building.

A new feature of the program this summer will be the recreation and the construction work planned for the intermediate or junior high school boys and girls. It will include an early morning hour on the supervised playground, and various interesting projects for both boys and girls, carried out on certain afternoons of the week. It is in the nature of a "stay-at-home-camp" program which puts into the vacation school many activities usually included in camp programs.

Any child in the city desiring to attend will be welcome in any of these schools. They are financed by enrollment fees, gifts from individuals, and church budget appropriations.

Fair Attendance Figures Misleading

Jackson Says Many of 439,000 Admitted Free; Brings Facts Out In Legislative Report.

Attendance figures of the Nebraska state fair, if used as a basis for determining appropriations, are misleading, George Jackson, secretary of the state fair board, declared Saturday in a statement, "Attendance vs. Receipts," prepared for the benefit of legislators in their appropriation drafting efforts.

Records for 1930 showed the fair's attendance at 439,000. "It would appear on the surface," says Mr. Jackson, "that if that many people passed through the gates at 50 cents each, the returns should have been $219,000."

Many Free Passes.

The statement goes on to point out that more than one-third of the fair's visitors are admitted free, due chiefly to admission every day of children under 12. Other free tickets include, five season tickets to each member of the state board of agriculture, two each to 452 newspapers, two each to county fair officials, two to each state official and legislator, 15,000 to 4-H club boys and girls, 900 to fair employes and others to Boy Scouts, Camp Fire girls, ushers, band contestants, county agents and others.

Although the free list is larger than that of any other state fair, Secretary Jackson declared, "We have no apologies to offer. We are not handing out passes to friends and influential citizens."

Appropriations for the fair were left in a muddle when Governor Bryan slashed vigorously, completely eliminating the customary $75,000 maintenance figure allowed the fair. The fair was a source of controversy throughout the regular session and is understood to be one of the few sticking points between Governor Bryan and republican legislators, aside from the building program.

ARMY AIR CHIEF AND EAKER HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

MEXICO CITY, June 6—(AP)—Advices from the frontier town of Tapachula, Chiapas, today stated that Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet, chief of the American air corps, and Capt. Ira C. Baker, widely known army flier, narrowly escaped death on landing there yesterday. They stopped to refuel while enroute to Panama.

According to dispatches received this morning, their plane's retractable landing gear, for some reason, was not in readiness for the landing and when the plane came down, the wheels folded up. The ship was damaged and the propeller broken, but the American airmen were said to have escaped with bruises.

The Americans left Brownsville, Tex., yesterday.

HERBERT CONVICTED.

CHICAGO, June 6 — (AP) — "Big Bert" Herbert, reputed henchman of Joe Saltis, was convicted on a charge of murder by a jury last night and his punishment was fixed at life imprisonment. Herbert was charged with fatally shooting Thomas Bonner, formerly of Paxton, Ill., an alleged police informer, last July.

RAINS RELIEVE DROUTH DANGER

Moisture Received Over Most of State Friday.

Reports of Friday's rains available Saturday morning showed that practically all of the state received generous amounts of crop nourishment, including the western part of the state where major wheat counties have been suffering virtual drouth.

Lincoln received 1.29 inches of rain since 7 o'clock Friday morning and .42 of an inch the night before, making a total of 1.71 inches. As close to Lincoln as Ashland, the precipitation for the last 48 hours totalled 3.32 inches.

Local officials of the Burlington railroad reported one-half to one inch of rain generally Friday on its Sterling division, which serves the heavy wheat counties of western Nebraska. Heavy rains also fell on the main line of the Omaha division; one-fourth to one inch from Lincoln to Kearney; showers to one-fourth from Lincoln to Ravenna; one-fourth from Stromsburg to Alma; one-half to one on the Columbus line; one to two inches from Wymore to Red Cloud; one to one and half from Dewitt to Holdrege; one-fourth to one inch generally on the Wymore division in southeastern counties; and showers from McCook to Akron.

The local U. S. weather bureau reported .84 of an inch rain at Omaha since 7 a. m. Friday, .42 at North Platte, .18 at Sioux City, and none at Valentine.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. said that one and a half inches of rain were received at Friend Friday, one and a half at Seward, one and a half at Wahoo, .46 at York, 1.05 at David City, .50 at Fairmont, .60 at Beatrice, .71 at Tecumseh, .75 at Fairbury, 1.02 at Nebraska City, .50 at Plattsmouth, and .92 at Auburn.

Revival of Optimism Necessary, Says King

New York Economist in Talk Here Suggests Regulating Currency Flow and Taxation.

To revive optimism among individual buyers and retailers is to regain business prosperity, according to Dr. Williford D. King, head of the economics department of New York university, who was the guest and speaker at a dinner given by Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the university school of business administration, Friday evening at the University club.

Discussing present business conditions with the thirty university professors and former classmates attending the dinner, Dr. King outlined what he termed his "latest guess" concerning the causes for the current economic stress and possible remedies for it.

Agreeing with many economists and business experts that depression is caused largely by pessimism, the speaker suggested regulation of business optimism by the flow of currency and taxation. Raise taxes in times of economic booms and lower taxes in times of depression, was a suggestion made. Tax money collected in times of boom should be used for stabilizing employment by expanding government enterprises in depression periods.

Regulation Currency Flow.

"Another means of controlling business optimism is by the regulation of currency flow," Dr. King declared. "If some competent board could be established to slightly contract flow of currency in prosperous years and to increase the supply of money in times of business pessimism, I believe the fluctuations of the business cycle would be minimized."

Prior to the address, several members of the University of Nebraska graduating class of which Dr. King is a member, were introduced. Dr. Theodore G. Soares of the California Institute of Technology, who is in Lincoln as the university commencement speaker, was presented as a special guest.

LARGE BARN BURNS.

(Special to The Star).

WYMORE, Neb., June 6—A large frame barn on the farm occupied by Fred Bergman, southwest of Wymore, was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin Friday, the fire consuming about 40 tons of hay. The total loss is placed at approximately $2,000.

MILK SHOULD BE ADDED TO WAFFLE BATTER GRADUALLY

This Method Insures a Smooth, Light, Lumpless Batter

Every cook knows that it is risky to pour all the milk at once into the flour when making waffles. In spite of vigorous stirring the batter will invariably contain lumps.

Coffee roasted in bulk also involves risk. Even the most skilled operator cannot prevent variation in the roast because the quantity is too large to handle. As a result, some of the coffee berries are overdone and some underdone. Such variation in the roast causes variation in flavor.

Realizing this, Hills Bros., in San Francisco, perfected and patented a process that roasts every coffee berry evenly. By automatic control, only a few pounds at a time pass through the roasters in which heat is also automatically controlled. When the coffee finally leaves the roasters, it is perfectly uniform in color and roast and gives a delicious flavor in the cup that no other coffee can equal.

No matter when or where you buy Hills Bros. Coffee, it is as fresh and complete in its exclusive flavor and aroma as when it came from the roasters. This is because Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum—a process that takes air, which destroys coffee flavor, from the can. The ordinary air-tight can does not keep coffee fresh. Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

DANA COLLEGE TO RUN SEPARATELY

BLAIR, Neb., June 6—(AP)—Reconsidering action taken Thursday when it was decided that Dana college and Trinity seminary both located here, should be governed by one set of officers, delegates to the annual convention of the Danish Evangelical Lutheran church convention Friday voted to separate the institutions and named officers for each.

Erland Nelson, acting president of Dana college for two years, was named president of the college, and Rev. J. P. Nielson, formerly dean of the college, was named president of the seminary.

FIREMEN ELECTED.

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., June 6—E. L. Purdy has been elected president and C. A. Lasher chief of the Wymore fire department. Other officers are: Assistant chief, H. A. Fitzgerald; secretary-treasurer, C. B. Edwards; trustee for three years, Frank Russell.

BLOW SAFES IN OMAHA OFFICE

Burglars Work Boldly And Get Away With Their Loot.

OMAHA, June 6—(AP)—Blasting two safes in the office of the Ray-Henderson Top and Body company here last night, burglars obtained $1,200 in cash and checks.

They entered through a skylight, used one of the company's automobiles to tow the safes to the center of the building, and there, in what should have been in plain sight of passersby, bored holes in the bottom of the safes and touched off their explosives.

The robbery was discovered by employes this morning.

CAR STALLED BY RUSHING TORRENT, GARFIELD STREET

When their automobile stalled in nearly four feet of water beneath the Rock Island bridge across Garfield street Friday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stephens, 2811 Cable avenue, were in a precarious position for sometime until police rescued them. Mr. Stephens had driven down the declivity, not suspecting that the water was as deep as it was. When Officer Graves arrived at the scene, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens were perched atop the seats with the water mounting steadily to within a few inches of them. Detective Weygint took two trusties, who waded into the torrent and pushed the car out. Stephens, an operator at the Stuart theater, suffered no ill effects, but Mrs. Stephens had a slight cold Saturday.

REED PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE OF BANK ROBBERY

FALLS CITY, Neb., June 6—(AP)—George Reed, 25, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Justice Bayard Clark here yesterday on a charge of participation in the $512 robbery of the Bank of Salem in 1928. Unable to furnish bond, he was remanded to county jail to await preliminary hearing June 19. Reed recently was arrested at Gillette, Wyo. Two men completed the holdup.

FELICITATIONS FROM PRESIDENT

OMAHA, June 6—(AP)—A personal message of felicitations from President Hoover graced the marriage here today of J. Frank McDermott, Omaha banker and Miss Emma Nash, member of a pioneer Omaha family.

"I have learned that today at St. Cecillia's church in Omaha Bishop Rummel will solemnize your marriage to Miss Emma Creighton Nash. I wish to extend to you and to Mrs. McDermott my most cordial congratulations and good wishes," Hoover wired McDermott.

CHICKENS HOME TO ROOST.

Surely Secretary of State Stimson must have enjoyed a very hearty laugh within the protecting walls of his office when he read the statement credited to him that the United States would enter no protest against retaliatory Canadian tariff duties.

And then to make the jest complete, Commissioner Klein, of the Department of Commerce, ventured the explanation that the reason why America did not protest was that it had been this nation's position that the tariff was a purely domestic problem. It is well that the feelings of the public were so carefully considered. There is a touch of awkwardness in a situation when it becomes necessary to confess that chickens come home to roost.

Yet, that is the only illuminating and beneficial conclusion which can be reached. Canada is America's best customer. In 1930, her purchases of raw and finished products in this country constituted approximately one-third of the total foreign trade which we enjoyed. Still we did not appreciate it. In the face of repeated representations by the Canadian government that, if we continued to erect more impressive tariff walls, it, of necessity, would be compelled to take similar action against us, we advanced the duties to new, higher levels. There was nothing which Canada could do against us. Our own officials at Washington, as diplomatically as the circumstances would permit, reported to Canada that what we did about the tariff was strictly our own business.

It would be impossible to conceive of a more intolerable and absurd demand than for the United States to protest against a step which we ourselves had taken only a year ago. Mr. Stimson did not have to tell us there would be no protest and Commissioner Klein did not have to explain the reason why there was no protest. Every one understood that we had been caught in our own trap and only the cheapest sort of a "piker" would cry out when it pinched him. If all the world were to establish tariff which would effectually bar American goods from sale in foreign countries, we should not have a word to say, that is, in the event that we are as fairminded and as generous as we should be. The tariff is our own invention. Our manufacturers have been fattening upon it for years and it was not until recently that they came to the realization that it could be turned against them just as effectively as they utilized it to their material advantage.

The most recent duties adopted by Canada will deprive the United States of $25,000,000 of foreign trade. That is only a starter, however. If Canada finds she can turn the tariff against us, we will lose our best customer.

The strange and inexplicable fact in the tariff controversy is that a law which has aroused so much resentment abroad should have been drafted and signed under the leadership of Mr. Hoover. He was acknowledged to be the best informed business man ever nominated for the presidency. More than that, he was pictured as the man best qualified to foster America's foreign trade. He had spent years abroad in the service of British interests; he had directed enterprises in practically every quarter of the globe; and he was supposed to be conversant with world conditions. It has been demonstrated, however, that, actually, he had the most faulty knowledge of the steps necessary to encourage friendships for this country of any one in recent years.

In the thing he was expected to show the greatest strength, he developed the greatest weakness. The news from Canada furnishes but another link in the evidence of foolishness which has characterized America's tariff policy.

CUT OUT THE POLITICS.

If the special legislative session should turn out to be another cat-and-dog fight, the people of Nebraska can put the blame on politics. Each party will have to bear some of the responsibility.

Had everybody concerned tried to arrive at some reasonable understanding in the late regular session an appropriation bill could have been passed at that time and the state thus saved the turmoil and expense of an extra sitting. But the republican majority refused to adopt any of Governor Bryan's recommendations for trimming down the code organization, which would have made some reduction in state expenditures possible without decreasing efficiency; and on the other-hand the democratic minority, under pressure from the governor's office, set itself stubbornly against any and all appropriation schedules that did not meet Bryan's personal approval.

This continued g. o. p. worshipping at the shrine of the civil administrative code, and the democratic subserviency to Bryan, combined to produce the deadlock which made the extra session necessary.

It is now too late to bring about any regrouping of the state's administrative activities, inasmuch as the work of the session opening next Tuesday is restricted under the governor's call to the one subject of providing funds for the operation of the state government and the maintenance of its activities during the biennium which starts July 1.

The only business the legislature can consider at this time is that of appropriations. The question is largely one of whether the tail can wag the dog. The republicans have a nominal majority in the house and an actual one in the senate; but they do not have enough votes in the lower branch to override the governor's recommendations.

This gives the house democrats an opportunity to practice obstruction again, as they did in the late regular session, by refusing to let any bill go through which does not bear the governor's personal O. K. stamp.

But if they persist in this attitude it is quite likely that the republican senate will be just as stubborn the other way and refuse to pass a budget bill which omits proper provision for needed improvements and maintenance funds at the various state institutions. An impasse of this kind will leave the state just where it was before.

For the sake of Nebraska, there must be some give and take on both sides. If politics is laid aside and the situation is approached from both sides in the proper frame of mind, it ought to be possible to work out a fair compromise between the conflicting viewpoints.

SLICING IT TOO THIN.

Congressman Cyrenus Cole of Iowa apparently does not believe in the old saying that "no matter how thin you slice it, it's still bologna." He thinks that the trouble with the world today—as far as the meat consumption problem is concerned—is that they're slicing it so thin nobody knows what it is.

His suggestion to the Sioux City Livestock association on how to increase the consumption of meat is to either stop using the meat slicing machines or to set the machines so that they will cut a slice thick enough to give some taste.

"These shaving processes leave both ham and bacon tasteless as such," Cole declares. "Such a sliver of bacon has no more taste than potato chips and one may defy even an expert in tasting to differentiate between ham and chipped beef. I have found many men who have quit eating bacon because it is served in such a tasteless form."

It would seem that the Iowa congressman has a "farm relief" idea which isn't so bad. It might result in the consumption of more beef and pork. Since we're willing to try every agricultural-aid plan suggested it won't hurt to give this one a go.

Even thicker slices of meat can hardly be expected to bring back the good old days of "ham and" supremacy. The age when the wealthy westerner splurged at the big city restaurants by ordering $40 worth of ham and eggs for his evening meal are as much a part of the past as the dodo. There are too many new-fangled foods now to compete with the old favorites. Dieting and food fads and the change in the type of work of most of the people are all factors in the decline of ham and eggs.

But let's try the plan of the Iowa congressman for a while. Slice it a little thicker. Then, maybe, when we can tell the difference between bacon and bologna it will be reflected in our meat consumption.

THE ROCKING CHAIR.

The rocking chair is a thing of the past, Tennessee furniture dealers agreed in a recent meeting, demand having virtually disappeared.

The passing of the rocking chair means more than an idle change of furniture.

It marks the transition from the home to the automobile.

It symbolizes the removal of women from the home to business, teaching and the professions.

It recalls the ever increasing trend from reflection to action.

It marks the transition from home manufacture to large scale industrial manufacture.

The story is neither all bad nor all good. New comforts have been brought to man. New problems have been brought to man. Conquest of difficulty stirs man's best. Luxury and ease weaken him. In the conquest of luxury lies man's greatest difficulty and his supreme achievement, when once realized as the molding of a wholesome, intelligent, yet emotionally satisfying life.

QUESTION.

Lexington, Ky.

I have heard it denied that the Russian soviet employs forced labor and that there is any danger of our markets suffering from Russian competition. What information have you on this matter.

ANSWER.

The London Times in a recent issue refers to a blue book issued by the British government and states that "its study should remove any doubt as to the absolute control exercised by the soviet administration over Russia's vast labor resources." This control is concentrated at present on stimulating production for export purposes, with paritcular emphasis on grain and timber.

But the blue book in question throws no light on the actual conditions of the labor camps, or on the treatment of the large numbers of political prisoners who are exploited as forced laborers by the Soviet's decree. A leading authority in the timber trade declares that the danger is not in buying this particular product from Russia, but in having connection with that country at all. His argument is that if the rest of the world does not want Communism it should refuse to trade with Russia in any way. According to him, nations which refuse thus to limit themselves are helping to bring nearer the day when Communism's merchandise and commodities will swamp the markets of the world.

These apprehensions may seem exaggerated to some, but there are reasons to fear that they may prove better founded than it is pleasant to contemplate. On the other hand, reports constantly reach the United States that Russia's railroads are far below the standard required for the extra strain put upon them by their intensive speeding up of the five year program. If this is the case, notwithstanding foreign credits and the importation of foreign engineers and other technical experts, she may not be able to carry out the plan.

It is reported that to date the wheat sold by the soviet has not exceeded 400,000 tons, and it has been estimated that Russia's total exports will not exceed 1,250,000 tons, notwithstanding she has taken an intensive campaign for wheat production, organized on a large scale and with modern equipment. Since I am neither an economist nor a financier I am unable to forecast the effect of her five year program on the trade and labor conditions of the United States and the rest of the world. But even a neophyte in such matters of this character realizes that our own capitalistic and industrial systems should prepare to answer the threat and challenge of Russian policies to the industrial peace and stability of the world.

QUESTION.

Charlotte, N. C.

I have been troubled with poor health ever since I was discharged from the army in 1918. Since then I have failed several times in business and lost numerous jobs. Now I can only do manual work. I often feel like giving up as I get tired so easily. Can you refer me to any helpful book? My faith in religion is now weak, even though I wish it were otherwise.

ANSWER.

Possibly you know that every World war veteran is entitled to expert medical advice and treatment from our government. Perhaps you have received either or both. You do not mention that fact. In any case, you should be re-examined. When the best the doctors can do for you is done, put the gospel of physical well-being first in your daily program. Make proper diet, fresh air and suitable exercise your bodily creed and practice it to the limit.

Possibly the war shattered your will power and made your ills more or less unpreventable. Nevertheless, they can be cured. Mental hygiene is the bright angel of physical restoration. So des ite all obstacles emulate Mark Tapley in Dickens' "Martin Chuzzlewit," and be an optimist. Deliberately cultivate cheerfulness and avoid introspection. Look on the bright side, and if there is none, make one. It may be terribly difficult but it can be done if you persist long enough.

I am aware these are simple recommendations. Nevertheless they embody the essence of countless experiences, and repetition serves to increase thier efficiency. Nothing sounder can be offered you for the regulation of the mind's life and habits. Don't waste too much time on books. At this stage of the game take only a few choice volumes, and make thier contents your own by thoroughly digesting them mentally, which, by the way, is a very different process to simply reading them.

I believe Halleck's "Psychology and Psychic Culture," published by the American Book Company, and Leslie D. Wetherhead's "Psychology in Service of the Soul," published by the McMillan Company, New York, would suit your needs. Read in conjunction with them E. D. Soper's "What May I Believe?" You have served your country as her brave and honorable defender. She is prepared to serve you in whatever is requisite. Dwell on these two factors, and look up, not down, out and not in; and, above all, look to God, who is pledged never to leave nor forsake those who endeavor to do His will.

Mad Pursuit

BY JESSIE DOUGLAS FOX

SYNOPSIS: When her cousin Frances has to go to a distant sanatorium, Nora Lake rejects Dr. More's appeal that she remain with her Aunt Emily to help care for the household and Fran's two children, abandoned by their father. She is happy in her engagement to Jonathon Thayer, brother of her late husband, the artist, Nicholas, and yearns for the Thayer mansion, also the home of Jon's step-sister, Damon. Nora's father, Julian, arrives from Italy and borrows money from Jon to exhibit his paintings. Because she knows her father's worthlessness as an artist, she is dismayed upon visiting the art gallery to see, displayed as his, paintings far beyond his ability. Jon does not understand why she asks him to take her away.

Chapter 27.

BY A DEAD HAND.

The train went on grinding over the tracks, filling Nora with its dull vibration.

If she could only think of something besides her father's pictures; think that she and Jon were going to be married, going to go far away, forgetting the past, beginning anew; climbing the Alps . . . she stopped, her lips between her teeth when she remembered that picture of the flowery meadows and ice-green glacier water.

Julian had never painted like that. But those were her father's pictures. That was his exhibition; those people crowding around him wanted to share the splendor of his recent achievement.

But who had painted those pictures? She sat up straight, clenching her hands together. Where had her father gotten those pictures that were signed so glibly with his name?

Terrible to think like this. Terrible if it were not true. But where had her father gotten those pictures? She sank back and closed her eyes. In a moment she was dozing. Again she was in the garden of the Villa Rosa and Nicholas was crouching down beside her, staring at his helpless hand. Why must she torture herself with dreams of Nicholas now? She started awake at last. Here was Jon again, and she must brace herself to meet him.

"How white you are, darling. Tired out with excitement. We'll drive right out home. I want Damon to know . . . and I want you, Nora. . . ."

"Nothing will ever keep you from me now?" she asked him.

"Nothing ever could!"

"Don't let's go home."

"Why?"

"Damon doesn't like me. I saw it that first time."

"Damon will love you when she knows you."

She closed her eyes again. Grinding, roaring over the tracks, tunneling through the darkness, then into the brilliant sunshine again. Would she go on like this forever, never reaching anywhere, but always living through this tortuous and terrible dream?

"What's the matter, Nora? Nothing's happened?"

"Oh, nothing, nothing. But I want to get there."

The train slid into the station at last. At last they were driving across the city. She was grateful for the low buildings, the small old-fashioned houses with their quaint old-world air, trees again and the long purple road that led to the Thayer house.

"The man who painted those pictures is dead," Damon said.

At last they were in the silvery gray room of Jon's home, the sunset coming in through tall windows.

How feverish her eyes looked, how desperately white she was. She flung off her hat with a wild gesture and saw then that someone else was in the room. Damon was sitting in the window, and she rose and came slowly toward Nora. Her tea gown with its delicate lace fell away at the throat, showing her milky skin. Her fair hair was bound around her head like a shining coif. She held out a cool hand to Nora as they sat down.

Nora began to talk breathlessly about nothing. Was Damon going to stay home now? Had she had a pleasant summer? Damon answered quietly, her eyes never once on Nora's face.

"Where have you been today?" Damon asked tonelessly.

"Oh, I was in New York—I met Jon—Jon's been so kind—"

Why did she talk in this senseless, crazy fashion? Why was she half mad with excitement?

She kept turning her eyes toward the window. There was something that she could not look at, something that changed the whole room.

"You see, I brought it down from my room," Damon said at last.

Nora was forced to look at Nicholas' painting of the old peasant woman. The brilliant light that suffused the scene; and the old woman with her patient folded hands.

All at once there was nothing more to say. Damon was looking at the picture, looking back at her. Here was Jon with the cocktail shaker. Nora grasped a thin stemmed glass and drank it thirstily. She felt as though everything in the room were spinning about her in a mad fantastic dance, and in the center Nicholas' picture blazed in a circle of light.

Damon and Jon were talking, and she sat there looking at them, as though they were strangers.

"You've heard about the show?" Jon asked. "Nora hasn't told you? Her father's a wild success."

Jon left them alone at last.

"I, too, saw the exhibition," Damon said.

The words dropped into the silent room as though they had fallen into a pool. Nora was battling through this silence, like a spent swimmer who fights for life.

"Tell me about your father's paintings," Damon was saying.

"I have nothing to tell you."

Why did her words spin off into this dreadful silence? Why was Damon looking at her in this strange searching way as though she were a small insect, secure on a pin, an insect struggling for escape?

"I should prefer that you would tell me when he painted all those pictures."

"How could I tell you?"

Her voice was hoarse. She wondered what had made it hoarse.

"I see that you know."

"Know—what?"

Damon's eyes sought the picture of the old peasant woman. In another moment Damon was going to say something that would change the face of the whole world for them both. She must stave it off.

"I don't know what you mean!"

"You know who painted those pictures."

The words were like hammer strokes, each one crashing against her skull. Her head sank lower and lower.

"The man who painted those pictures is dead," Damon said

Not at home. . . . That's what Nora's told Monday when she calls. Anyway, Damon's reason seems good enough.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

A Funny Nursery

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Each to his needs. What you refuse
Some other may be quick to choose.
—Old Mother Nature.

Cocky the Road Runner and Mrs. Cocky were very much upset. Yes, indeed, they were very much upset. Farmer Brown's Boy had found their nest. They had anxiously watched him going from one patch of chaparral to another and peering into and through each and looking into every lone cholla and clump of cactus. They had kept themselves well hidden, but never once had they allowed him to get out of their sight. Twice he had passed the place where their nest was hidden in the middle of a cholla without seeing it. He had at last started for his horse to ride back to the ranch and they had begun to breathe easier. Then he had turned back for one more look and this time he had found the nest. Do you wonder they were upset? You see, they didn't really know Farmer Brown's Boy. He had stopped only long enough to peep into the nest for a glimpse of the four little Road Runners and then had hurried away. Mrs. Cocky sighed with pure relief. "Thank goodness, he has gone. I hope he never comes back," said she.

"I hope the same thing," replied Cocky. "He made me nervous."

"It was all your fault," snapped Mrs. Cocky crossly.

"My fault!" exclaimed Cocky. "What are you talking about? What did I have to do with it? How is it my fault?"

"Because you would show off and have a race when he came along on that horse yesterday," retorted Mrs Cocky. "If you had kept out of sight as I did he wouldn't have known that we were anywhere about and he wouldn't have come back here to look around this morning. Just because you are a good runner there is no need for you to show off before any one who happens along. His finding of this nest is no one's fault but your own."

It was true and Cocky knew it. "Well, anyway, he didn't do any harm," replied Cocky with surprising meekness.

"He'll be back. I feel it in my bones," declared Mrs. Cocky.

She was right. Very early on the following morning Farmer Brown's Boy was back and for a while he was very busy close to that cholla where the nest was, and Cocky and Mrs. Cocky spent a half hour of such worry as they had seldom known. Then he had disappeared. Where he had gone they hadn't the least idea. As a matter of fact, he had slipped inside a blind that he had been setting up. Of course they saw the blind and for a time were suspicious of it. But they soon made up their minds that it wasn't alive and therefore was harmless. The babies were hungry and must be fed. It was something to be thankful for that that two-legged creature had gone away. So Mrs. Cocky visited the nest to make sure the babies were all right and then both she and Cocky hurried away to hunt for food. They little guessed that they had left Farmer Brown's Boy within three or four feet of that nest with its precious contents. Peeping through an opening made for the purpose, he looked right into the nest which was now the nursery of four young Road Runners. There were as many sizes as there were young. One was a homely black baby with no feathers and it was quite evident that he had not been long from the egg. Another was just beginning to feather out and was as homely as most bird babies are at that stage. A third was well feathered, but still something of a baby, while the fourth looked to be half grown and almost ready to climb down and try out his legs. Already he had something of a crest, but his tail was still short. Beside these there was an egg which looked as if it might have been freshly laid. Altogether it was a funny nursery

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

DOSING WITH CATHARTICS MAY BRING ON COLITIS

The person with colitis or irritable colon has not infrequently given it to himself. The inside of the colon or large intestine is quite sensitive and easily injured; it will not stand prolonged insult by mechanical irritation or chemicals, whether the chemicals be epsom salts or oil in enemas. Yesterday we pointed out the possible dangers of excessive douching of the large intestine, especially when carried out by the patient on his own body without medical supervision.

Dr. Clendening

Today we discuss an even commoner habit which is quite as fraught with potential harm—the habitual dosing with cathartics.

Perhaps the best way to make the point clear is to recite the history of an actual patient. A man aged 40 came to a clinic complaining of discomfort all over his abdomen, and constipation. Curiously, when he was questioned about his constipation, he said that he had several evacuations a day, but that what he meant by the word "constipation" was that he never felt as if his intestines were entirely empty. He had been in the habit of dosing himself with epsom salts for years.

At first he felt relief from the use of salts, but a year before consulting the clinic doctor he began to feel the sensation of not being cleaned out and increased his dosage of salts until he was taking some every two hours in the daytime and was consuming the staggering amount of nearly half a pound a day. The inside of his intestines were red and spongy and covered with small white spots, probably beginning ulcers.

On treatment which consisted in taking him entirely away from the epsom salts and giving him a bland diet of milk and eggs and vegetable purees, he was restored to normal feelings of health and comfort.

Such a story, which is by no means as uncommon as it sounds as if it should be, shows how such excessive anxiety to keep the colon empty actually leads to colitis. In fact, the cathartic habit, and the enema habit, and roughage diets are the commonest causes of colitis.

There is one good rule for those who have the necessity for a cathartic. That is, take a cathartic only on the night of the day when you have not had an evacuation. There is no question that many people do need a cathartic occasionally, or even fairly regularly, but it is very easy to slip into the habit of taking too much, and of taking a cathartic too often.

For several reasons, perhaps, the best cathartic to take for regular use is fluid extract of cascara sagrada. Being in liquid form, the exact dosage can be measured more accurately than if in pill form. For some people one pill is not enough and two pills are too many. With liquid cascara and a dropper you can get the exact number of drops which will produce a formed evacuation without gripping and irritation. For you it may be 21 drops for somebody else in the household 19 drops, or 25 drops; but in every case the individual can get the exact dose needed. It should be taken at night as it requires about 8 hours to work. And it should be taken only on the night of the day when there has been no evacuation.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Sare of the Hair and Skin."

HERE and THERE

OH, MR. ADAMS!

(Kansas City Times)

There is such a thing as carrying economy too far, and Mr. Adams, secretary of the navy, seems to have done it in his new order abolishing the holystoning of the decks of warships. He has made the discovery that the process, which has been practiced in the navy and merchant marine ever since the foundation of the republic, wears down the wooden decks and increases the cost of repairs and replacements.

We don't believe it, but even if it does cost the navy something, what of it? The navy should be willing to pay something to keep up the traditions of the sea and to support its literature. Does Mr. Adams, who is himself a seafaring man, a yachtsman anyway, think it wise to put the American navy in the attitude of rebuking Captain Marryat, Herman Melville and all the world's greatest sea chroniclers?

We would think twice if we were Mr. Adams. While the slinging of the holystone, known technically below decks as the "bible," has always been regarded as a punishment for infraction of discipline, it is doubtful if any sailor with respect for his calling would willingly put to sea in a ship without holystones. Could he regard himself as a sailor if bidden to swab down the deck with a housemaid's mop? Could he raise the holystone chanty with such a landwise instrument in his hand—

Holy, holy, holy, make her like her bone;
Damme, damme, damme, follow up the stone;
With a swash and a swish,
Oh it's hell's own dish—

while Mr. Midshipman Easy or his like stands by to masthead the first slacker?

As a taxpayer, a traditionalist and a defender of the navy even against Josephus Daniel's order taking away its grog, we can assure Mr. Adams he is on a wrong tack. He should instantly stand by to go about. Economy be damned. What this country wants is a navy. Grog gone and now holystone going—come, come, Mr. Adams, with your name, too, and Massachusetts with her salty history!

Patriot.

(From Life Magazine)

It was a beautiful Sunday morning. Simpson, having finished reading a paper printed with an invention made in Germany, set out with his wife for the meeting house of a faith founded in Palestine. Contemplating the beauty of the land, which had been discovered by an Italian in the employ of a Spanish queen and musing on the liberty it possessed thanks to the help of a French navy, his bosom swelled with pride. "Thank God," said Simpson fervently in a language imported from the British Isles, "I am a 100 per cent American!"

3 RESIGN FROM STUDENT PAPER

Mitchell, M'Gaffin and Wolf Decline Posts; Von Seggern Editor.

Three students appointed to positions on the staff of The Daily Nebraskan, university student newspaper, for next semester, resigned Friday afternoon, soon after the publications board had announced its selections.

Boyd Von Seggern, West Point, was advanced to editor-in-chief of the Nebraskan by the publication board, a position for which he had not applied. The two applicants for that post, William McGaffin, Polk, and C. Arthur Mitchell, Huron, S. D., who were named as associate editors, an honorary post drawing no salary, announced their intention to resign as soon as they heard of the appointments.

Arthur Wolf, Edgar, named as one of two managing editors, also announced he would resign. He said Saturday morning that he could not afford to do the work, because of the necessity of securing a job which would carry a larger share of his school expenses. The other managing editor is Evelyn Simpson, Omaha.

No resignations had been received early Saturday morning by Gayle C. Walker, director of the school of journalism and chairman of the publications board. He indicated, however, that if the resignations are submitted that they would be accepted and new appointments made at a later date.

Other Appointments.

All three said Saturday morning they would resign during the day. Wolf planned to make an oral resignation by telephone, while McGaffin and Mitchell said they would submit written resignations to Mr. Walker during the morning.

"I was very disappointed that McGaffin wasn't made editor," Mitchell stated. McGaffin said he was "awfully sorry they didn't make Mitchell editor."

Boyd Von Seggern, who was selected as editor, has been a news editor on the Nebraskan this semester and had applied for a position as managing editor. His selection to the editorship, he said Saturday, came as a complete surprise to him, the publication board having given no intimation they planned such action.

During the present semester, Von Seggern has also served as editor of the Cornhusker Countryman, monthly magazine of the agricultural college student body. He was its managing editor the first semester of the present school year.

At the same time that the appointments to next fall's Nebraskan staff were made, the publication board announced appointment of the staff for the summer Nebraskan. Oscar Norling, editor of the Nebraska Alumnus, was made executive editor of the summer paper. Jack Erickson, Newman Grove, was named editorial assistant, and Bernard Jennings, Lincoln, business assistant.

Aside from the chief editorial positions on next fall's Nebraskan, the publication board named Murlin Spencer, Fort Morgan, Colo., as sports editor; Berenice Hoffman, Lincoln, as woman's editor, and the following as news editors: Howard Allaway, Homer; Jack Erickson, Newman Grove; F. Laurence Hall, Lincoln; and Joseph Miller, Beatrice.

TAWAMATO IS FREED OF CHARGE

Munger Holds No Punishment Provided For Harboring Alien.

Shuji Tawamato, Lincoln Japanese, stood free of punishment Saturday morning, despite a plea of guilty to a recent federal indictment charging him with harboring an alien illegally admitted to the United States. Saturday morning, his attorney, T. S. Allen, filed a motion with Judge T. C. Munger to arrest judgment on the ground that the statute defining Tawamato's offense failed to provide for punishment.

The judge found that, although harboring an alien is prohibited in the federal immigration laws, the only punishable act in connection with illegal admission of aliens is actual aid in smuggling the foreigners into the country. He sustained Allen's motion.

The indictment arose out of the visit of Tawamato's 14-year-old nephew, Reiso Okado, from his home in Canada, without the formality of obtaining permission from immigration authorities in North Dakota. The boy has been here almost a year now and has been attending public school.

Archbishop Expelled

BERLIN, June 6—(AP)—A Telegraphen Union dispatch from Kaunas said today that Archbishop Bartholoni, papal nuncio to Lithuania, had been expelled by an order of the foreign ministry, requiring him to leave the country within twenty-four hours or be removed forcibly. The archbishop left today by automobile for the German frontier, it was said. He was said to have incurred the wrath of the Lithuanian government for alleged interference in cultural affairs.

Rhea, Hager Best 'Big Six' Bets In N.C.A. Meet

Husker Heaver Plots to Grab Victory With Final Toss Fifty Feet

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

STAGG FIELD, Chicago, June 6—The task of carrying Big Six conference colors to victory in the national collegiate track and field championships today rests on the shoulders of Hugh Rhea, Cornhusker all-American tackle, and Bob Hager, Iowa State crack hurdler, although Dawson of Oklahoma and Putnam of Iowa State may do something worth while in the distance runs.

Half Dozen Qualified.

The Big Six squads qualified six of a dozen athletes entered in the Friday preliminaries of the cinder carnival, but, with the exception of Rhea and Hager, qualifying performances by the other quartet brought faint hopes of national titles in other events. Rhea hurled the 16-pound shot 48 feet 3½ inches to place third among the qualifiers, while Hager raced to victory in his heat of the high hurdles and easily qualified for the Saturday program.

The Big Six conference lineup for this afternoon finals reads as follows.

Big Six Lineup.

Shot put—Hugh Rhea, Nebraska.

Broad jump—Don Gray and Cobe Tomson, Nebraska; Clarence Mell, Oklahoma.

High hurdles—Bob Hager, Iowa State.

Javelin—Elmer Faytinger, Nebraska.

High jump—Milton Ehrlich, Kansas Aggies.

Pole vault—Clyde Coffman, Kansas.

Distance runs — Glen Dawson, Oklahoma; Ray Putnam, Iowa State.

Rhea Full of Confidence.

Rhea, whose Friday showing was the poorest made in competition this season, was confident this morning he could cut loose this afternoon with a heave of better than fifty feet and win the event. A toss of this nature would be necessary, for Hall of Southern California, eastern intercollegiate champion, already is on record with a mark of 49 feet 9 inches.

Henry F. Schulte, Rhea's coach, however, was not so optimistic, the "Indian" having hinted early in the week that the big fellow was "pressing too hard" in the effort to maintain his perfect string of victories. Rhea will have six tosses with the iron ball today.

Gray Clears 24 feet.

Don Gray got out 24 feet 1½ inches on his second leap to easily qualify in the event. He was one of four jumpers bettering 24 feet in the preliminaries. Cobe Tomson had trouble with his step, but managed to get out 22 feet 5¾ inches on his last leap and get under the wire, eleventh among the dozen qualifiers. Mell of Oklahoma also was in the broad jump, being sixth with 23 feet 4 7-8 inches.

Faytinger surprised by placing sixth in the javelin with a cast of 185 feet 5½ inches, a foot ahead of his nearest competitor, but five feet back of Robinson, Alabama, who is in fifth position.

Lee Nosed Out at Wire.

With four of the five Nebraskans entered qualified, Jerry Lee came close to making it unanimous. The Bassett flyer, however, drew a bad lane in the field of 15 starters in the first heat of the quarter-mile. He got into two bad pockets at the start of the race, but managed to smash out and was running a third, necessary to qualify, when Burns of Butler came up with fast spring to nose ahead of the Nebraska boy at the finish.

Hager of Iowa State finished well to beat Berry of Southern California in the second heat of the high hurdles, winning in 15 seconds.

Nagel of Iowa State found the pace too hot in the half-mile and dropped out after 700 yards, Moore of Oklahoma winding up sixth among seven finishers in the same heat.

Kansans Place Third.

Sickel and Klaner could do no better than third in their heats of the two dashes. Gridley of the Jayhawkers, who ran 23 seconds over the low hurdles at Lincoln two weeks ago, was third in heat of the low sticks, which was clocked in 24 seconds.

Flick of Kansas was third in his heat of the highs and ran fifth in the lows. Jones, K. U., captain was seventh in his heat of the quarter-miles.

There were no preliminaries in the high jump, pole vault or distance runs.

BOYS TO SWIM AT 'Y' POOL NEXT WEEK

The Annual Y. M. C. A. beginners' swimming classes will start June 8 and carry through June 14, all boys of nine years of age up being eligible to register. Registration cards may be secured in the boys department, no charge being made for the class. Last year 510 beginners took advantage of the "Y" classes.

There will be at least three instructors present with all classes, with Tommy Leeke and Cliff Cunningham in direct charge aided by some of the swimming leaders. The water will be warm and will be at a sufficiently low level to preclude any danger. Accommodations have been arranged to take care of from 30 to 40 boys in each class.

GAMES LAND IN WATER BUCKET

Friday Frays in Nebraska League All Washed Off Slate.

LADIES FREE TONIGHT.

The "ladies free" sign has been hung out for the Saturday night game at Landis Field—Lincoln vs. North Platte. Free admissions for the feminine fans ordinarily are offered Friday, but the washout of the Friday night game resulted today in an announcement by President Bob Robinson of the Links that the special concession to the ladies will apply to the Saturday night entertainment.

Friday baseball in the Nebraska State loop was a complete washout. McCook was all set to dedicate its new lighting plant, installed for night pastiming purposes, but a three-inch rain the previous night, followed by a Friday downpour, compelled the Generals to wait another day before turning on the juice.

Lincoln's Links, home from a successful road trip, were prepared to entertain the North Platte Buffaloes in a series opener, but the plot to step on the league's tailenders was buried under a sea of water. The playing field at Landis yard was inches deep in mud and ooze, a postponement being inevitable. The promise of Saturday sunshine, however, gave reasonable assurance that the Links and Buffs will get together in their Saturday engagement at 8:30, under the lights, while the program for Sunday provides for two games—the first at 2:30 and the second at 8:30.

Pitcher Clair Sloan, former Cornhusker, who toiled for the Links in home games last summer, reported Friday to Manager Nunamaker and plans to be in uniform, taking his turn on the mound, after a few days of preparation.

TROJAN CINDER MEN TOP FIELD

Dozen U. S. C. Tracksters Qualify for Finals of National Meet.

CHICAGO, June 6—(AP)—A battle in almost every event, and a Trojan from Southern California in almost every battle was today's choice offering in the country's blue ribbon college track and field event, the National Collegiate association championships.

The Trojans did just as everyone thought they would, placing 12 men for the championship finals today and failing to qualify only in the half-mile run and the hammer throw. There appeared no doubt that Southern California would climax a second consecutive sensational season by retaining its N. C. A. title.

Starting in the opening event yesterday at Stagg Field, the Trojans put two men, Stokes and Berry, in the finals of the high hurdles. Berry finished second to Bob Hager of Iowa State in one heat, and Stokes won his trial from Harlan of Texas A. & M. in another.

Wykoff Wins Heat.

In the second event, Frank Wykoff, uncrowned world recordholder in the 100-yard dash, won his heat of the event in 9.6, but remained at the track long enough to see Emmett Toppino of Loyola university, New Orleans, tear down the strip in 9.5, tieing the recognized world mark, set by Eddie Tolan of Michigan. Tolan also qualified in 9.7, and Peyton Glass, sensational sophomore from Oklahoma A. & M., won his heat in the same time.

Vic Williams, who tied the world record of 47.4 seconds for the 440-yard dash last week at Philadelphia, won his heat yesterday in :48.9.

Ernest Payne, Southern California's intercollegiate 220-yard low hurdles champion, and Carls made places in the event, the former winning in :23.6, the fastest time, and Carls doing 24 secoinds even to win one. Keller did :23.7, while Brownlee of Duke university, southern intecollegiate titleholder, duplicated Carls' figure.

Hall Leads In Shot Put.

In the field, Bob Hall of Southern California led the qualifiers in botn the shot and discus, Dick Barber went to the broad jump finals and Ken McKenzie qualified in the in the shot, and 125 feet, 8 inches in the hot, and 125 feet, 8 inches in the discus.

Ed Genung of Washington, who won the N. C. A. mile in 1929, and Dale Letts of Chicago, Big Ten champion, were the most likely contenders in that event. Southern California has no two-miler entered, and Clark Chamberlain of Michigan State, George Wright of Wisconsin, George Dawson of Oklahoma, Henry Brocksmith of Indiana and Ray Putnam of Iowa State are the outstanding entrants.

Joe Sivak of Butler was back to defend his one-mile title against Ray Swartz of Western State Teachers, Kalamazoo, Mich., Kirk of Wisconsin, Jack Walter of Marquette, Ralph Hill of Oregon and Hardman of the Naval Academy, among others.

"Y" League Arranges Play Postponements

A change in the lineup of the playoff games in the "Y" league scheduled for Monday was announced Saturday morning by Cliff Cunningham, director of "Y" baseball. The Hardy Furniture-Roberts Dairy game, originally scheduled for Monday at muny, will be replaced by a play-off affair between Hardy's and the Evans Laundry on the same diamond. Hardy's tackle Roberts later, and the Evans-Hardy game will be a playoff of the 2-2 deadlock of last Tuesday.

The Lincoln Telephones and Golds will play a playoff mix Monday, at Thirty-first and W, the regularly scheduled game between the two clubs having been rained out.

The Evans Laundry-Iowa-Nebraska Power playoff game, washed out when first scheduled, will be played Monday, June 15, at Landis Field, according to Cunninghom. The game will be played under the lights and an admission of 10 cents per person will be charged.

Big Bam Day At Yank Park

NEW YORK, June 6—The baseball world tomorrow will try to tell George Herman Ruth how much it appreciates his contribution to the game in an illustrious career extending over 18 years. It will be "Babe Ruth Day" at Yankee stadium and the home run monarch will receive the silver plaque voted to him by the New York baseball writers as the most valuable man to his team.

In awarding the plaque to Ruth, New York writers of baseball specified his record in 1930 for a basis for their findings.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS— By John Hix

Contracts for products of J. Ogden Armour's company during the World war were estimated at $1,000,000,000 a year. To take care of this tremendous bulk of business, an extensive building and expansion campaign was undertaken. The end of the war caused cancelled contracts and deflated prices which caused great losses to the company which had been operating at a billion dollar-a-year speed.

Millions of dollars were lost by Armour the first few years following the war, and at one stage of this post-war depression, he lost a million dollars a day for 130 days.

Eureka Springs, Arkansas, is so hilly that not even a small circus has found a spot level enough to erect its main tent there. The Public Schools have never had a football team, lacking a level field, and their baseball team is forced to travel five miles to obtain a site suitable for a game. Public parking spaces in the business district have been made by filling in or erecting a platform across valleys. Planes of the local airport fly below the level of their landing field, made from scraping off the top of a mountain.

'MAXIE' LAYS IT ON EXTRA HEAVY

Schmeling Gets Rough in Business of Smearing Boxing Mates.

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., June 6—Week-end visitors to this resort today, eager to view Max Schmeling's "samples" in workouts with sparring partners, may get that opportunity—and then again, may not.

The world's heavyweight champion, preparing here for a title match with Young Stribling, is proving "bad medicine" for his stablemates. He forced Manager Joe Jacobs to wire for additional sparring partners after yesterday's bouts.

Tony Marullo of New Orleans and Pedro Lopez of Oklahoma City, both weighing over two hundred, were the victims of Der Maxie's bombardment. Each was "exhausted" after two rounds with the champ. Marullo went to the floor under a stiff body attack, which was followed with straight rights to the head. The German used short, sharp punches on Lopez.

Big Bam Poles Homer to Beat Brownies and Smash Losing Streak

Despite a recent injury, Babe Ruth is in the game every day, fielding well, and, as usual, providing thrills. He went to bat against St. Louis yesterday with his team a run behind in the ninth inning and the tying counter on base, and drove one of Sammy Gray's offerings right into the right field bleachers at the Yankee stadium for a home run that won the game for the Yankees, 8 to 7. Then he led a parade around the bases while the fans poured out of the stands to follow him. The homer gave him a tie with Mickey Cochrane for the major league batting leadership with a .397 average.

Tigers Nose Ahead Senators.

Washington lost a tough one to the Detroit Tigers and George Uhle, 1 to 0 in 11 innings. Pitching the entire distance in a duel with Sam Jones, Uhle gave only five hits and not a walk. Jones also pitched a five-hit game but in the eleventh, a hit batsman, a sacrifice, an infield out and a single produced the needed run for Detroit.

The champion Philadelphia Athletics also played an extra inning game, losing to Chicago, 7-5, as Lew Fonseca hit a homer in the twelfth and the Sox followed it up with another run. Boston halted Cleveland's winning streak, after 10 games, in the fourth American league contest, winning 4 to 3 with an early attack on Willis Hudlin.

Cards Too Good for Giants.

The first and second place teams of the National league, St. Louis and New York, provided the leading struggle of the elder circuit, battling back and forth for 10 innings before the Cardinals won out, 8 to 7, and increased their lead to three and one-half games.

The scrap for third place became even closer as the Boston Braves and Brooklyn Robins advanced a game on Chicago. The Robins took advantage of Cub misplays and their own six-hit pitching by Phelps and Quinn to beat Chicago, while the Braves shut out Pittsburgh, 4 to 0. Boston got only five hits to the Pirates' six off Tom Zachary, but found a weak spot in the Pittsburgh defense and scored three runs in the eighth inning.

The Cincinnati Reds put together their second three-game winning streak of the year by trouncing the Phillies for the third successive time, 9 to 2. Silas Johnson, who has pitched four of the Reds' 12 victories, held the Phils to seven hits.

CLAIM TOMMY AS "HOME BOY"

Britons Fondly Refer To Fact Armour Born In Scotland.

LONDON, June 6—(AP)—Admitting they couldn't get away from the fact that the open golf championship has gone to America for the eighth successive year, British golf enthusiasts and press commentators clung fondly today to the fact that Tommy Armour is of Scottish birth and refused to regard him as an American.

All agreed that the 1931 open was one of the most exciting and remarkable fights in the history of the championship and had nothing but admiration for Armour, while extending hearty sympathy to Jose Jurado, the little Argentine who tossed away his chances on the last two holes. Jurado was credited with a "glorious failure," but Armour was declared the greater golfer and a worthy winner.

Decline Offer Excuses.

No excuses were offered for the failure of any of the British homebreds to win and virtually all interest was centered on the hot fight between Armour and Jurado.

The Morning Post said:

"The moral of it is we have still to discover and apply the secret which subtly distinguishes the best American from the best British golf—the secret which always brings the Americans in a cluster to the top."

Tommy Heads for Home.

LONDON, June 6—(AP)—Tommy Armour, British open golf champion, left London today for Southampton and the United States, hoping to win the United States open for a "double."

"It's great to be the British champion," Tommy said. "It has been my greatest ambition to win the old cup and now that I have succeeded, I am going after the American open. What a double, eh?"

Armour said he thought the United States Ryder cup team was much stronger than the British side.

"You ought to have more youngsters on your team," he said, "For, even if they lost this time, they would undoubtedly form a nucleus for a much stronger side for next year."

Hodson On Cup Team.

LONDON, June 6—(AP)—Bert Hodson of Chigwell, former Welsh golf champion, today was invited to join the British Ryder cup team, completing the list of eight players and two alternates which will meet Captain Walter Hagen's United States squad of professionals at Columbus, O., June 26 and 27.

Californians Plan Make Presence Known In Hudson Race.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 6—Two big California crews were on the Hudson today, after a four-day transcontinental journey.

The Golden Bears, with reputedly the best varsity eight since they swept the boards in 1928, are brimful of confidence and highly optimistic as to their prospects in both varsity and junior varsity races, the only ones in which they will row in the intercollegiate regatta June 16.

The Californians reached Poughkeepsie yesterday and gave the townsfolk a treat by unloading their shells at the local station and carrying them down Main street to the ferry landing, whence they were taken across the river.

"We are taking no chances of having things go wrong," said Ebright. "We have a good squad of substitutes and, in addition, we have brought three-eight-oared shells, for, in the event of an accident, it would be impossible for us to get another shipped here before the regatta.

"The boys are in fine condition and the varsity will average just over the 180-pound mark on race day."

Fire Licks Up Flock Homers

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 6—(AP)—A half million dollars in baseball bats and golf club shafts, still in the lumber stage, were destroyed by fire which swept the Hillerich & Bradsby company plant here early today.

All of the lumber was ash and hickory and more than two years old. Officials estimated the loss at $590,000 upward. The origin of the fire was undetermined.

SAINTS STEP ON WICHITA HEELS

Hamilton Outfit Sweeps Four-Game Series At Oklahoma City.

The Wichita Aviators are again within a shade of being nosed out of the Western league leadership, this time by the St. Joseph Saints.

The up and coming club from Missouri swept the four-game Oklahoma City series with a 3 to 2 decision yesterday to make it seven straight over the Indians, while the Aviators were forced to split a set with the Topeka senators, losing the final tilt, 1 to 3. Today the leaders tackle the Indians, while St. Joseph moves against Topeka.

Kain got credit for the Saints' victory, holding the Indians to half a dozen blows, while his mates nicked Larson and Jones for nine hits. The Saints held a 3 to 0 lead until the seventh, when Kain slackened his pace to allow two runs.

Senators Down Leaders.

The Senators, taking advantage of Kennedy's wildness in the seventh to save the game, converted each of three hits into runs. Meadows submitted to a four-hit attack, one of the blows being Young's homer over the centerfield fence in the ninth.

Pueblo and Denver exchanged places in the standings again as the Braves turned on the Bears for an 8 to 2 triumph after losing the first three engagements of the series. Denver failed to stop the Pueblo batters with three hurlers and was blanked for eight innings by Davis.

Rain forced postponement of the Des Moines-Omaha game.

The British amateur golf championship will be staged at Muirfield next year. It was held there in 1926.

Wrestling Results.

At New York—Jack Sherry, Nebraska, threw Paul Fiaski, New York. Charlie Metro, Boston, drew with Theofelis Firpo, Greece. Howard Cantowine, Iowa, threw Demitri Demitroff, Russia. George Hills, Chicago, defeated Joe Tools Hondt, Colorado.

At West Springfield, Mass.—Gus Sonnenberg, Boston, defeated Dan Koloff, Russia.

At West New York, N. J.—Jim Londos, Greece, defeated George Manich, New Jersey state champion. H. Fadaleak, Syracuse, N. Y., threw J. Bruce, Brooklyn. Herb Freeman, New York, threw F. Carroni, Italy. Wladek Zybsko, Poland, and Taro Myaki, Japan, drew.

At Salt Lake City—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, 225, Los Angeles, threw Ira Dern, 205, Salt Lake City, two out of three falls, (Lewis, first, 24:00; Dern second, 3:00; Lewis, third, 8:00.) Dean Detton, 175, Salt Lake City, threw Mike McGuire, Shreveport, La., (18). Barney Ostapoch, 222, Flint, Mich., threw Jack Ray, 212, San Antonio, Tex., (18).

Reaction Carries Over Into Saturday's Stock Market; Many Favorites Drop 1 to 4 Points

N. Y. Exchange Hit By a Selling Wave

Profit Taking and Short Selling Account For Most of Activity.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 6.

Friday's reaction from the peak of the week's rally was carried into a dull and featureless week-end session today, and many of the speculative favorites dropped off 1 to 4 points. Though the volume of trading was comparatively small there was no sign of a let-up in the selling wave from the first tap of the opening bell to the closing period, many of the favorites finishing at or near the bottom. Profit taking and new short selling by the professionals accounted for the bulk of the activity of the short session.

New York Central bore the brunt of fairly heavy selling in the rail group and fell off 4 points to 77½, closing more than 3 points lower, at 78¼. New Haven closed at 70½, down 2; Union Pacific down 6 at 152½; Atchison at 145¼, down 2¼. Final prices in the bulk of the rails stood about midway between yesterday's peaks and Wednesday's lowest levels. Chesapeake & Ohio closed about a point higher, at 34⅝.

United States Steel, which had recovered 11 points from the low of the week, was a shining target for the bears today. The stock fell off more than 3 points to 89⅛, down about 5 points from the best price at 43½; American Tel. & Tel. down 1⅞ at 66⅞; General Electric down 1¼ at 38⅜; Allied Chemical down 2⅜ at 110⅝; Standard Oil of New Jersey down 1¼ at 32¾; Consolidated Gas down 2⅛ at 88⅜; General Motors down 1¼ at 33⅞.

Stocks drifted sluggishly to lower prices in a dull and featureless weak-end market. The reaction in the rails and industrials, which started near the close of yesterday's session, was resumed at the opening today, the heaviest losses being recorded by the favorites which had burned the tape in their swift recovery from Wednesday's low levels. Traders who bought stocks at the week's low ranges were ready to sell at from 2 to 4 points from Friday's peaks in order to convert paper profits into cash.

The week in trade and business was marked chiefly by a good increase in the retail clothing and household lines, but a further shrinkage in commodity prices.

United States Steel dropped below 90 for a loss of 2½ from Fridays' close and of 4¼ from yesterday's best price. New York Central lost 3 points and sold at 78½, down 5 points from rFiday's peak.

Consolidated Gas fell off an additional 2 points to 88. Auburn Auto was comparatively quiet, with a 4-point decline to 163. American Telephone and Telegraph lost a point at 167¾.

Stocks swung lower at the opening of the market today, continuing the reaction which was in progress at Friday's close.

United States Steel lost 1¼ at its opening price of 91. New York Central was down a point at 80½. Union Pacific down 1½ at 157. Bethlehem Steel down ⅝ at 44½. American Can down ½ at 99½. Westinghouse down 1¼ at 63⅜. American Telephone & Telegraph down ¾ at 168

Consolidated Gas led the reaction in the utilities and fell away 1⅛ to 89½. American & Foreign Power was down ¼ at 25¼; Columbia Gas up ⅝ at 25⅛; National Power & Light down ⅝ at 23½; United Corp. down ½ at 20¼.

Auburn Auto sold up ½ at 167½. General Motors was down ⅝ at 34½; Chrysler unchanged at 16½; Nash down ⅛ at 25⅛. Oils were reactionary with Standard of New Jersey down ⅞ at 33½; Standard of New York unchanged at 14⅞; Standard of California down ⅜ at 34; Texas Corp. down ¼ at 19¾.

Fox Film sold off ¼ at 16½. Loews was down ⅜ at 40½; Radio Keith down ½ at 13; Union Carbide down ¾ at 47⅞; Industrial Alcohol unchanged at 30¾; Woolworth up ½ at 67⅞; Western Union down ½ at 107.

The market was dull and fairly steady in the first period.

Grain Values Little Lower

Wheat Closes ⅛ to ⅝c Down and Corn ⅜ To ½c Off.

By International News Service.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 6

Grains closed easier today. Wheat was down ⅛ to ⅝c, corn ⅜ to ½c lower and oats ¼ to ⅛c off. Rye was ⅛ to ⅝c down.

Wheat started uneven but later declined about 1c on scattered selling, buying power was moderate and mostly by shorts and on resting orders. The technical position of the market showed signs of being weakened by the advance of over 4c from the low of the week.

Liverpool closed 1¾ to 1⅞d. higher. Winnipeg was ⅜ to ⅝c lower. Scattered rains were reported in the Canadian and American northwest. Reports indicated insufficient moisture in practically all sections of Canada with conditions worse than more than 25 years.

Following a strong opening corn futures also reacted with wheat. Weather over the belt remains favorable. Cash demand is moderate.

Oats and rye reacted with the general trend after being strong at the opening.

Estimated carlot receipts were: Wheat, 49; corn, 82, and oats, 12.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 6

Curb stocks continued to sag in a generally listless week-end session today, with profit-taking and further scattered professional selling proving sufficient to give the market another price jolt.

Commonwealth Edison developed fresh weakness in a reactionary utility group slumping 4 points to a record low at 201. American Gas & Electric dipped 1½ points to 54⅜. Electric Bond & Share dropped back a point to 34, and declines of more modest proportions were the rule in practically every other active utility issue.

Oils gave way quite sharply, with Gulf breaking almost 3 points to 41⅛. Humble off 2 points at 52, and Standard of Indiana off about a point at 22¼. Cities Service was off ½ point at 11.

Pressure was again brought to bear against the specialty leaders, with Aluminum dipping 2½ points to 110½. Parker Rustproof off 2¾ at 90, Deere off 1½ at 21, and Technicolor off 1 at 6. Investment trusts held narrowly for the most part.

Market Steady to 10 Cents Higher; Top $6.00 On 170-220 Pounders.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., June 6.

CATTLE—Curtailed supplies brought relief to the glutted fat cattle market this week; competition for offerings of yearlings, heifers and light steers was the best in some time and prices on these classes advanced 75c; heavier steers and cows were not so easily bought but they shared the upturn to the extent of 25c to 50c; most of the feeders offered were warmed up and under much better demand and they sold 50c to $1.00 higher; all classes held nominally steady today.

CLOSE: Cattle, receipts 100, no calves; compared with a week ago: fed steers and yearlings 25c to 75c higher; mostly 50c to 75c up; heifers 50c to 75c higher; beef cows, 25c to 50 higher; cutter grades strong to 25c higher; bulls steady; vealers, 50c higher; stockers and feeders, firm; bulks for the week: fed steers and yearlings, $6.00@7.50; numerous choice loads, $7.60@8.00; weighty steers, 1334 lbs. $8.00; yearlings, 914 lbs., $8.35; heifers, mostly $6.00@7.00; few up to $7.50; bulk beef cows, $3.50@5.0; choice lots, $5.25@5.75; cutter grades, $2.50@3.50; medium bulls, $3.00@3.60; practical top vealers, $8.50, few to independents at $9.00@9.50; stockers and feeders, $5.25@6.85.

HOGS—The light run of hogs cleared early at prices ranging from steady to strong; top was $6.00 with bulk of sales $5.50@5.90; heavy hogs slow; sows also fully steady, a few light kind selling up to $5.10, but with most sales $4.60@5.00; compared with a week ago: light hogs, 10c to 20c higher, while heavies range as much as 35c to 50c higher.

CLOSE: Hogs, receipts 3,000 including 63 direct; fairly active, steady to 10c higher; weighty butchers up more; 160-260 lb. weights, $5.75@6.00; top, $6.00 on 170-220 lbs.; 260-375 lb. butchers, $5.60@5.75; packing sows, $4.75@5.10; average cost Friday $5.65, weight 263.

NEW YORK, June 6

COTTON—A further setback at the opening of the New York cotton exchange today carried prices down 12 to 16 points or only 10 or 15 points above the season's low levels scored in the middle of the week.

Heavy wire house and Wall street liquidation come into the ring and commission house selling increased in the distant months. The south sold moderately. There was some scattered price fixing mainly for the continent on a scale down. Co-operative brokers bought distant months. Week-end covering by shorts, however, acted as a check to the decline.

MAN CONFESSES BRUTAL MURDER

Dismembers Body of Brooklyn Victim; Implicates Latter's Wife.

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—Charles Obietes confessed to police today to the butcher murder of Andrew Zubenski, Brooklyn speakeasy owner, and implicated Zubenski's wife in the slaying.

Obietes, who boarded with the family, said he killed Zubenski by striking him over the head March 25, and that he then dismembered the body disposing of the several parts in various part of Brooklyn.

The confession was made to Captain Carey of the Brooklyn police.

Accuses Wife.

Obietes said Mrs. Zubenski told him she wanted her husband put out of the way for fear he might "go back to Cleveland, O., and tell the authorities about the deaths of her first husband, Adam Vilentis," whose body was found in his backyard May 23, the skull crushed by an axe.

Obietes, who is 26 years old, told the police it took him two days to dispose of the parts of the body.

Mrs. Zubenski, who is 43 years old, persisted in denying all knowledge of the killing.

Mellon Leaving On Trip Abroad

WASHINGTON, June 6—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will sail next week for England where he will be present at the graduation of his son, Paul Mellon, from Clare college at Cambridge, it was announced today.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Bruce, the secretary's son in law and daughter, who have taken a house on the Riviera for the summer, also will attend the graduation, after which the party will go to southern France to remain several weeks. Mellon plans to be gone about six weeks.

Two Slain and 30 Stabbed by Crazed Filipino on Ship

YOKOHAMA, June 6—(I. N. S.)—Running amuck aboard the steamer Empress of Canada while the vessel was at sea, Vilas Graciano, a crazed Filipino passenger, killed two Chinese members of the crew and knifed thirty others before he was captured and placed in chains, according to advices received here today.

Charles Campbell, ship's plumber, and William Caldwell, steward's storekeeper, were wounded as were twenty-eight Chinese and Japanese steerage passngers.

The wounded were being cared for in the ship's hospital.

BAKER APPEALS IN RADIO FIGHT

KTNT Will Continue Broadcasting Pending Court Ruling.

WASHINGTON, June 6—(AP)—The radio commission's refusal to renew the license of station KTNT, at Muscatine, Ia., because it objected to programs broadcast, must be passed upon by the District of Columbia Court of appeals.

Norman Baker, operator of the station, continued his long contest for a license yesterday by obtaining a stay order after the commission had formally denied the license renewal application on the ground the station's programs were objectionable. But for the court order, the station would have gone off the air last night.

Holding many of Baker's utterances over the air to be "vulgar," if not indeed indecent," the commission in its decision said that "while we may not censor, it is our duty to see that broadcasting licenses do not afford mere personal organs and also to see that a standard of refinement fitting our generation is manitained."

Under the stay order, the station will continue broadcasting until its appeal from the commission ruling has been decided.

The commission's decision quoted many remarks purported to have been made over the air by Baker and which it described as improper, and said the station was being operated as an advertising medium for the Baker institute, a hospital specializing in cancer treatment, and other Baker enterprises. In addition it alleged he had made "personal atacks upon individuals, companies and associations."

HOOVER CONFERS ON NAVAL FUNDS

Discusses Cut in Expenses With Chiefs at Mountain Camp.

HOOVER CAMP, RAPIDAN, Va., June 6—(I. N. S.)—The president and his week-end guests sat at early breakfast here this morning, after a night of sleep in the mountain air, preparotory to tackling the problem ofr educing naval expenses during the ensuing fiscal year. The president late yesterday determined on a Friday evening trip, when weather observers predicted showers for today.

The chief executive breakfasted with the various bureau chiefs of the navy department. He was joined this morning by ecretary of the Navy Adams and Assistant Secretary for Aviation David Ingalls. Adams flew here in an autogiro piloted by Ingalls.

Simmons Among Guests.

Naval officials representing all the important branches of the service part of the group already here. Rear Admiral Ridley McLean, budget officer of the navy, and Rear Admiral A. L. Parsons, in charge of yards and docks, were to figure prominently in the discussion.

Then, too, there was Hugh Gibson, veteran diplomat and American ambassador to Belgium, who will discuss the possible international ramifications of any naval economy moves, and Representative immons, republican, Nebraska, a member of the house appropriations committee.

Navy Chiefs in Autogiro.

CRIGLERSVILLE, Va., June 6—(AP)—The navy's new autogiro plane, carrying Secretary Adams and Assistant Secretary Ingalls from Washington to President Hoover's Rapidan river mountain camp, landed at the marine field near here at 11:40 a. m., today.

The trip of approximately eighty miles was made in 1 hour and 17 minutes, with Ingalls at the controls. Two planes accompanied the "windmill" ship, but did not land

RUTH RAPS NO. 11

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—Babe Ruth hit his eleventh home run of the season and his second in two days in the third inning of today's opening game between the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees. The circuit clout tied the score at three all.

CANADIAN CROPS HIT BY DROUTH

Grains Said in Worst Condition in 29 Years At This Season.

WINNIPEG, June 6—(AP)—The Manitoba Free Press, after receiving reports from 347 correspondents in the three prairie provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, said today that crop conditions in western Canada are worse than they have been previously in 29 years at this season.

Drouth prevails in practically all areas, and grain fields in Saskatchewan and Alberta have suffered from severe dust storms. Frost has damaged crops in some districts.

"There is no disguising the fact that the situation is serious," the Free Press stated, "but one good soaking rain within a week would materially alter the crop outlook."

ANGLO-GERMAN PARLEY BEGINS

Reductions in British Dole Recommended on Eve of Conference.

CHEQUERS, Eng., June 6—(AP)—Heinrich Bruening and Ramsay MacDonald, heads of two great nations, strolled arm in arm up and down the walks of Mr. MacDonald's home here this afternoon discussing Germany's position in the maelstrom of world economics.

While the chancellor and the prime minister walked together Arthur Henderson, England's foreign secretary, and Julius Curtiuc foreign minister of Germany, sat on a veranda smoking and discussing the same thing.

Just as Mr. MacDonald talked with President Hoover at his Rapidan camp, so today did he go over the problems of England and Germany, in an informal but nevertneless serious manner.

Herr Bruening is staking everything on this opportunity to persuade Great Britain that Germany's skeleton is too weak to bear what its people feel to be the too-burdensome sections of the Young plan payments.

Would Sound Out Creditors.

He wants Mr. MacDonald to sound out Germany's creditors, including the United States, regarding those "postponeable payments," which the experts provided to tide Germany over such times of trouble as the present.

In Germany this conference is being watched with keenest interest, but to England it has paled into comparative insignificance in view of yesterday's report by the British unemployment commission recommending reductions in the Dole.

That report has created what probably will be a serious situation within Mr. MacDonald's own country, for the left wing laborites already have served notice that they will oppose it vigorously.

Labor Chief Says Rumor Of Agreement for Wage Cut "Positively Untrue"

WASHINGTON, June 6—(AP)—President Green of the American Federation of Labor said today rumors reaching him that the federation would agree to a 10 per cent wage reduction were "positively untrue."

"I don't understand how such a rumor could have been inspired," Green said. "There is no justification for it whatsoever. Not only has the federation not consented to any lowering of the wage scale, but it is not sympathetically inclined toward such a move."

Reports reached here also that Secretary of Labor Doak had been in conference with labor leaders and that a downward revision of the wage scale has been agreed upon. Doak characterized the rumor as "foolish." He reiterated he favored upholding the wage scale.

NEW YORK FARMER AND NIECE SLAIN; KILLER IS SUICIDE

ROUND LAKE, N. Y., June 6—(AP)—The body of Gordon DeWitt, 56, who came here a year ago to share the farm of his brother, will be taken to Everett, Mich., for burial. He was killed yesterday by Clyde Clemens, who also slew Gordon's niece, Grace DeWitt, with whom Clemens was said to be infatuated. Clemens killed himself.

Four of DeWitt's six children, ranging in age from 3 to 17, will accompany the widow to Everett where the family will make their future home. The eldest two will remain here.

The Western open golf championship will be held at the Midlothian Country club, Chicago, June 22-26.

START WAR ON GRASSHOPPERS

Ravages in Boyd County Expected To Be Stopped Soon.

Although grasshopper infestation is heavy in Boyd county, any further considerable damage can be quickly checked if farmers use poison bran which will be shipped there, L. M. Gates, insect expert for the state agricultural department, announced Saturday on his return from an inspection trip over the area.

The grasshoppers are still small and at a stage where they do not usually cause noticeable damage, according to Mr. Gates. Their great numbers, however, have resulted in wholesale destruction of barley and corn in some areas, particularly around Butte and Bristow.

Other crops have not been injured as seriously. The insects eat several times their size in plant life daily and are constantly increasing in size so that they would be a serious menace if not checked. He believes that if farmers will use the poison, a carload of which has been ordered by Boyd county commissions for distribution to farmers at cost, the infestation can be checked.

Grasshoppers stop feeding almost instantly after eating the poison, he points out, which would bring an immediate relief to the crop situation. They die in from two to five days thereafter, according to Mr. Gates.

Heaviest damage has been done in Boyd county, but some was also done in Knox county along the Niobrara. Generally poor crop conditions this year have accentuated the difficulty, says Mr. Gates. He was accompanied on his inspection tour by O. S. Bare, extension entomologist of the agricultural college.

Grasshoppers were more numerous than usual last year, and with a mild winter, practically all eggs were hatched, according to Mr. Gates. Few of them, however, came from the well cultivated areas. The damage was due to heavy breeding in grass plots, old meadows and along the roadsides. Better soil cultivation and deep plowing are recommended as aids to eliminating the pest for next year.

Much greater damage has been done in South Dakota than in Nebraska, according to Mr. Gates. Farmers there are just beginning to wage a poison war on the insects to check their ravages.

DEGREES GIVEN 876 GRADUATES OF UNIVERSITY

minister and is connected with the California Institute of Technology.

For the presentation of the Pershing medal, Carl Hahn slipped off his cap and gown and appeared on the stage in military uniform.

Degrees Conferred.

Graduates were presented by the deans of their colleges to the chancellor who conferred the degrees. The ceremony that might appear a little too solemn and tiring to the uninteresting observer, as usual was full of significance to the graduates and their parents and friends.

After the chancellor's solemn pronouncement "By virtue of the authority delegated to me I confer on you the degree" and the declaration that the graduates were "entitled to the credit and consideration that should attach to that degree" there was generous applause for each group. The largest groups were the arts and sciences college graduates, 212, and the teachers college graduates, 200. Those seniors from the law, medical and graduate colleges, whose degrees represented five to eight years of study, won the most applause from the audience.

The lone recipient of the degree of doctor of philosophy, Benjamin Albert Botkin, appeared on the stage for the ceremony and was presented his degree by the chancellor. His work had been in English and anthropology.

Present Honorary Degrees.

The five distinguished individuals who received honorary degrees were seated on the stage. Each was presented to the chancellor by a member of the university faculty. The cloaks signifying their ranking in the academic world were placed on each by Professor R. J. Pool, master of ceremonies, as Chancellor Burnett presented them certificates.

Mr. Wyer was presented by Gilbert Doane, librarian, Mr. Davidson by Prof. R. T. Brackett, Mr. Magonigle by Prof. H. F. Cunningham, Miss Abbott by Prof. Hattie Plum Williams and Mr. King by Prof. T. B. Robb.

The audience then sang "America The Beautiful," accompanied by the fine arts band and led by Hermann Decker to conclude the program.

A recession closed the ceremonies. The audience remained seated as the faculty members slowly marched out, followed by the graduates.

Solemnity Discarded.

All the solemnity of commencement was thrown aside by the graduates as they passed out of the coliseum doors. With caps and gowns ready to be discarded, the class of 1931 joined in a wild scramble to get their "sheepskins" in the basement of the coliseum and then to join relatives and friends.

Chancellor Burnett's greeting to the graduates, as customary, was enclosed with the degrees. His message in part:

"You are now going out to take an active place in the world of affairs, reluctantly perhaps, since your student relations are dear to you, but with a fine courage and eagerness to be at work. There is no lack of opportunity, but time is necessary for your adjustment and absorption into industry. You are still apprentices, seeking experience by which you may grow in effectiveness and fit your selves into the world's work.

"Do not be over-choice as to the position you are willing to accept in the beginning. Go out to this new experience eagerly and unafraid. You have youth, strength, and some degree of knowledge. You have courage and the will to do. Perform each task with precision, with zeal, and with understanding—qualities that will win recognition for you in business life. More responsible positions will come to you with experience, go to your daily tasks with joy in your hearts, with love for your work, and with a firm belief that you travel the road to success.

"So I bid you Godspeed as you fit yourselves into important places in society and demonstrate your right to leadership through your power to achieve."

Graduates of the law colege of the University of Nebraska were admitted to practice in the state and federal courts Saturday afternoon.

They were sworn into the state bar by Chief Justice Charles A. Goss of the Sulpreme court. Federal Judge T. C. Munger admitted them to practice in the federal courts.

For Better Or Worse.

Dr. Soares' address, in part, follows:

"Morality is changing to be sure; nobody can deny that. But is it changing for the better? The older and the younger generations have generally disagreed upon this point, the elders seeking to keep the standards of the good old times, while the youth insist upon determining what is good for themselves.

"The truth would seem to be, not that morals are unchangeable while machines improve, but that we should be as wise in the field of morals as we are in that of machinery, discarding the old only when we are sure that we have something more efficient. Not all the patents of 1931 are superior to those of 1921.

"The scientific study of social adjustment is of far more importance than any further mechanical progress. We could get along, if it were necessary, with the machinery already invented, we cannot be content with our present social life.

Re-examine Moralities.

"It is no disrespect to the past when we urge that all its moralities must be re-examined. Every creative age of the past was such by reason of its revaluation of its social achievements. Nor do we honor the past when we merely repeat its moral maxims. A newspaper recently made an investigation in an eastern college to determine how many students could repeat the Ten Commandments. A surprisingly small number were able to do so, and the editor believed that he had found the cause of collegiate immorality. But not only would the ability to say a form of ethical words have no necessary relation to conduct, but the fundamental moral condition would be ignored, namely: What does the maxim mean?

"'Thou shalt not steal' seems clear enough, and doubtless we should be much better off if what is ordinarily called stealing could be ended. But one of the most important moral issues of our day is to determine what we mean by theft. What is dishonest? Is it dishonest for laborers to organize so as to compel society to accept less than a day's work for a day's pay? Is it dishonest for producers to organize so as to compel society to pay exorbitant profits? Is it dishonest to develop a boom and 'get from under' before it breaks? Is it dishonest to go on the stock exchange and buy what you do not intend to pay for and sell what you have not got?? What do we mean by stealing? Evidently we need some changing moralities. To be satisfied with old legal terms may be to come far short of moral behavior and to lose sight entirely of moral progress.

New Economic Morality.

"Twenty years ago a prominent Chicago manufacturer, who was even then behind the times, said that labor was a commodity like wheat and steel, its price determinable by supply and demand. Every intelligent person would call that an immoral statement today; but it was once good classical economic philosophy. Since then we have learned to talk about a living wage. It is worth remembering, by the way, that horses were always given a living wage. But this term is now obsolete for we are talking of the right to a saving wage; and I believe the latest term is a cultural wage. A socially minded manufacturer in Louisville has dared to say that a business which cannot provide adequately for its employes, take care of them in sickness, make provision for periods of unemployment, and secure them a competence in old age has no moral right to exist in the modern world. If such a principle should be accepted it would be a new morality.

"I do not intend to discuss prohibition, but I cannot refrain from pointing out that there is only one ground upon which it can reasonably be discussed. It is not an old morality. By far the great majority of the best men that ever lived drank wine. I received a pamphlet the othre day giving scores of passages from the Bible in praise of wine. In the old days the brewers and distillers, who were always diligent Bible students, used to issue similar pamphlets. And they were right. Every man who wrote a page of the Bible drank wine on the day he wrote it. Abstinence from alcoholic liquor is not an old morality. But it might be a new morality. I shall not argue that question, but only suggest that there is the question for consideration. Have we come to a time in the world's complex when it is not safe to allow the manufacture and sale of this dangerous, habit - forming drink? If we think we have, we would be agreeing to establish a new morality.

Effort To Outlaw War.

"In the modern discussion for the abolition of war some people feel that despite is being done to the heroes who died in the great wars of liberation. Those were moral wars. That old world inevitably involved the old morality of fighting for human rights. But it is proposed to make a new morality. That is what the Kellogg pact means. The question before our time is, whether we are big enough, to see the opportunity for this new morality, perhaps the greatest single moral advance in the entire history of the human race.

"After the first Russian revolution Protopoppoff, the minister of the interior under the czar, was imprisoned in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul. He said to an American correspondent, 'I have been guilty of the unpardonable crime of not understanding my own age.' Whether he spoke cynically or sincerely, he spoke truly. The most serious mistake that any man can make is to fail to see the old moralities that are dying and the new moralities that are coming to birth in his time. The stupid man is he who does not see, the wicked man is he who does not care, the righteous man is he who looks for the new moralities, looks for them eagerly, as the watcher looks for the morning."

THE WEATHER.

Low pressure areas are central over southern Manitoba, Illinois and Arizona and New Mexico, while high pressure prevails over the northern mountain region and the Atlantic and gulf coasts. Showers or thunderstorms occurred within the past 24 hours over most of the great central plains the middle Mississippi valley, the southern portion of the lake region, and locally on the north Atlantic and the California coasts. Temperatures are above normal over most of the mountain region and westward, over the northern great plains, and the Mississippi valley and eastward, and are below normal over most of the remainder of the country.

DOG TRACK MEN START TEST SUIT

Allege Law In Illinois Discriminates in Favor of Horse Racing.

CHICAGO, June 6—(AP)—Whether betting on races can be legal in Illinois while the sun shines and illegal by moonlight is to be tested in the courts by promoters of dog race tracks.

They have started four suits in Cook county (Chicago) courts to test the constitutionality of the law, declaring that horsemen should not hold a monopoly of the racing business under the law of 1927, which forbids operation of licensed parimutuel machines after sunset.

Through their attorneys, led by Edward J. O'Hara of St. Louis, who holds an interest which he was reported to have bought from "Scarface Al" Capone, the dog men charge that the sunset clause was inserted to bar whippet racing. They threaten, if they are not allowed to operate, to pull down the law that makes horse racing profitable in the state.

Barred By Sunset Clause.

There is no law against dog racing, but gambling is barred by the sunset clause, and canine races are held at night. As an indication of profits from betting on dog races, it was testified in the recent income tax evasion trial of Ralph Capone, brother of the "Scarface," that a track in one season cleared $1,000,000.

Horse racing was at a standstill for many years in Illinois until 1927, because wagers were illegal. Then the state racing law was passed, allowing pari-mutuels to operate during daylight hours. It provided that a cut of seven and one-half per cent from the pari-mutuel operations, along with the daily fees of $1,500 and $2,500, go to a state fund to supply cash prizes for the agricultural and stock exhibitions at county fairs.

Dog Tracks Raided.

This year, two dog tracks were opened and immediately raided, as was expected, for test cases. Some of the men arrested went before a justice of the peace court in Morton Grove, a suburb, were fined $100 each and immediately appealed.

Meanwhile, attorneys filed a suit in Circuit court to recover $32,000 alleged to have been lost in bets at a horse racing track. The suit, an odd legal procedure, demands return of thrice the money named, with the state taking half the sum recovered. At the same time, a suit was filed in Superior court asking recovery of $10,000 lost at another track.

British Girl Lowers World Swim Record

GLASGOW, Scotland, June 6—(AP)—A new world's swimming record of one minute 54 seconds for the 150-yard women's back-stroke was claimed today for Miss Joyce Cooper of London. Miss Cooper made the time in competition at the Govanhill baths last night.

The listed world's 150-yard backstroke record is 1:56 1-5, set April 29, 1930, at London by Miss Cooper. Miss Eleanor Holm of New York holds the American record, also 1:56 1-5.

Maureen Seeks Title In British Tourney

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland, June 6—Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, N. J., only American entrant in the British women's open golf championship, scored an 82 for the first 18 holes of qualifying play over the Portmarnock course today.

There were 114 entrants, just half the number competing last year, when play got under way today. Qualifying rounds of 18 holes each were scheduled for today and Monday, with the 64 low scores embarking on championship play beginning Tuesday.

"Ty" Not Scheming Buy Baseball Club

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 6—(AP)—Ty Cobb, retired baseball star, here today for a visit with friends, denied reports that he was considering buying the Western league franchise of the Oklahoma City club.

"I am not negotiating to take over any baseball club at this time," Cobb said. "While I still wish to be identified with baseball, although not as an active player, at this time I am just taking a vacation."

SHEEHAN HOOKS UP WITH MILLER CLUB

MINNEAPOLIS, June 6—(AP)—Tom Sheehan, veteran pitcher released by Kansas City of the American Association, has been signed by the Minneapolis club of the same league. He will be in a Miller uniform at Kansas City today.

A year ago this time Marvin Owen was getting his diploma from Santa Clara college. Then he joined the Seattle club and played shortstop the rest of the season. Now he is starring at that post with Detroit.

FLYERS ON MARK IN TURF CLASSIC

Gallant Knight In Best Fettle for Duel With Questionnaire.

BY BILL CORUM.

NEW YORK, June 6—Whether Gallant Knight, the flyer from the west, can answer the Questionnaire in the stretch is the question that the forty-fifth renewal of the Suburban Handicap will answer at Belmont Park this afternoon.

Opinion of the experts is almost as sharply divided on this question as on the Jamestown-Twenty Grand controversy, but the great bay colt from James Butler's East View farm probably will parade a favorite at something less than even money. He is certain to do so if the track should turn muddy, as Gallant Knight is strictly a pasteboard track performer.

Sure To Pull a Crowd.

The thrilling race is expected to attract the largest crowd of the season to luxurious Belmont—possibly 50,000 persons, if the weather remains fair.

Once before, Gallant Knight, which ran second to the mighty Gallant Fox of Belair in the Kentucky Derby and Arlington Classic last season, came east to pit his skill against Questionnaire, but went lame just before the running of the race.

This time he is a fit horse, fresh from a world's record-breaking seven-eighths of a mile at Churchill Downs. He is a fast horse and he can carry his speed as far as our horses can. The Audley Farm star and Questionnaire will not make any mistakes and beat him.

Top Weight On Questionnaire.

W. S. Vosburgh, the official handicapper, has asked the son of Sting to carry four pounds more than the invader, 128 against 124. The Rancocas stable's unsound but fleet Mokatam comes next in the line with 123, one pound less than Gallant Knight will shoulder. Mokaham's chances would be greatly enhanced by mud, and has no horse in his present form to fool with even on the dry.

The western open golf tournament will be crowded into three days instead of four this year. It will be staged at Dayton, O., June 18-20.

Hurls No-Hit Game In Lone Star Loop

GALVESTON, Tex., June 6—(AP)—Chief Eul Moore, full blood Cherokee pitcher of the San Antonio Indians of the Texas league last night let the Galveston Buccaneers down without a hit. The score was 7 to 0. Moore is pitching his first season in a class A league.

The brilliance of Moore's feat was dulled somewhat by the fact that it was Galveston's seventh straight loss and the nineteenth in 21 starts.

'WIFFY' COX WINS BAY STATE CROWN

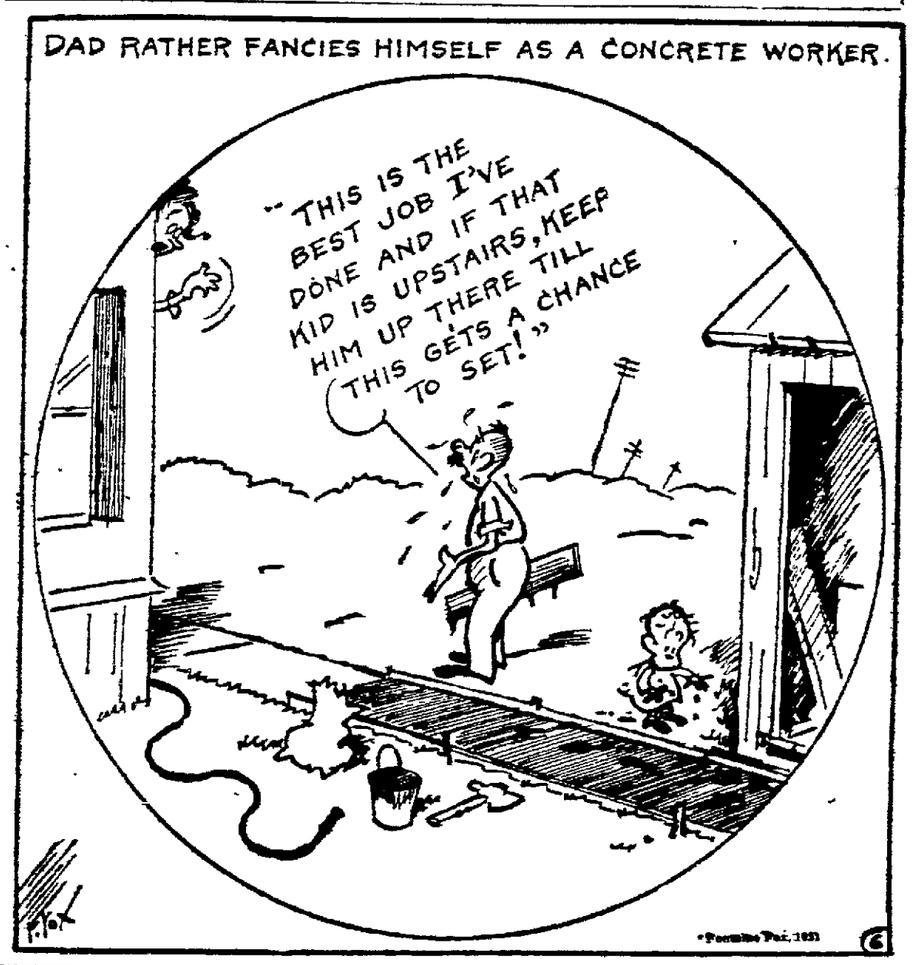

WORCESTER, Mass., June 6—Whiffy Cox, who used to scrub decks in Uncle Sam's navy, today wore the crown of Massachusetts open golf champion.

Cox, of the Marine and Field club of Brooklyn, N. Y., shot two brilliant rounds of golf in the final 36 holes to win eight strokes ahead of the field over the country club course.

His total for the 72 holes was 302. Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., with 300, finished second.

COUZENS AWAITS MITCHELL REPLY

Senator Revives $1,000,000 Estate Tax Case On Hill Property.

Expects Attorney General to Answer Questions on Appeal.

WASHINGTON, June 6—(AP)—Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, said today he expected Attorney General Mitchell to answer his questions about the million dollar estate tax levied on the property of the late James J. Hill of Minnesota, but there was no indication from the attorney general that he was ready to reply.

"I certainly want to know why the department of justice refused to appeal this case to the Supreme court," said Senator Couzens. "I have waited two months for a reply from Mr. Mitchell. I expect that reply."

While he declined to discuss the future, there was an intimation from the Michigan senator that he would not hesitate to put the case before congress when it reconvenes.

Wrote Last March.

Senator Couzens wrote to the attorney general last March about the Hill case. Mr. Mitchell was the attorney for the estate of Mrs. Hill before he entered the government service. The Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the contention that the property given by Mrs. Hill to her children prior to her death was not given in anticipation of death and therefore was not taxable.

Senator Couzens said the treasury department and Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, then assistant attorney general, asked that an appeal be made to the Supreme court. Attorney General Sargent ruled no appeal would be made. Senator Couzens pointed out that Mr. Mitchell was then the solicitor general.

"There may have been a very good reason for it," Copzens said today, "but I don't know what it is. In my mind there is a grave tax evasion and one of the principal reasons why we should have a gift tax."

tained except a cousin somewhere in Kansas.

Frank had operated a confectionary store at Davey for the past twenty years. Prior to that time he was in the merchandise business there for more than a score of years.

The exact time when he killed himself is not known. He went to his store as usual in the morning and was seen there early in the day by a number of people. The body was found by Joe Skaar, who started to look for Frank when he did not come in for the noon meal. Frank used a short length of old rope.

Wadlow's ambulance was called and brought the body to Lincoln.

GRAVEL RATES ON ROCK ISLAND ARE ORDERED LOWERED

For the third time since the state railway commission denied an attempt to establish reduced gravel rates which would benefit only one large gravel company, the commission Saturday issued an emergency order for reduced rates.

The new order affects nearly half a dozen gravel pits on the Rock Island railroad. Previous emergency orders gave reductions to pits on the Burlington and Union Pacific. All the emergency orders are temporary, pending conclusions of the commission as to desirability of general rate reductions on carload gravel shipments in the state, following a hearing to be held Monday.

The emergency orders were issued to permit reduced rates where they would benefit highway construction work now under way or about to commence, as an aid to meeting truck competition.

The shipping points in the emergency order are all in the vicinity of Fairbury. Shipments will be made to Gilead, Hebron, Deshler, Nelson, Jansen, Plymouth, DeWitt, Clatonia, Martel, Beatrice, Steinauer, Pawnee and DuBois.

BROKEN NOSE IS CAUSE OF DEATH

OMAHA, June 6—(AP)—Edward J. Anderson, 14, of Omaha, died yesterday at a local hospital of complications resulting from a broken nose. He will be buried Monday.

Dogs Won't Change Is Mayor's Reply To Pleas for Aid

"Dogs will be dogs, and the city can't do much to change them," was the substance of Mayor F. C. Zehrung's comment Saturday morning after an investigation of a petition urging the city council to take some action against dogs alleged to be destroying flowers, gardens and lawns.

"As long as the city licenses dogs, there isn't much more we can do," the mayor declared. "The only possible legislative remedy is to require that all dogs be leashed, and the large majority of dog-lovers would throw six thousand different kinds of fits if we tried to do that.

"The health department and humane society officials tell me that scarcely a day passes but that two or three dogs injured by automobiles are picked up and killed, so that stray dogs are gradually being wiped out anyway."

M'CORMICK AND MRS. STILLMAN ON HONEYMOON

however, and pointed to the differences in their ages.

McCormick Approves Match.

Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the executive committee of the International Harvester Co., said in Chicago:

"My son's marriage comes as no surprise to me and it has my entire approval. I have known for some years of Fowler's unwavering devotion to Mrs. Stillman and of his desire for this outcome, and I have known, too, of her deep regard for him.

"My own concern is for their happiness. Basing my thought of what I know of them both, I not only hope, but truly believe that they will find in this marriage life-long contentment and comradeship."

Fowler McCormick, who is worth a fortune in his own right, was a close friend of Mrs. Stillman's son, James "Bud" Stillman, who married Lena Wilson, his mother's maid, the daughter of a Canadian lumberjack. He was best man at that wedding in the Quebec backwoods. He is a graduate of Princeton.

No monetary arrangements were revealed in connection with the latet Stillman divorce proceedings.

Fowler Comments

Fowler McCormick, located at Easthampton, said:

"We're going to play around here for some time — two or three weeks. I haven't had a vacation for a ling time. Then back to Chicago and work."

Mr. McCormick is a traveling sales manager mfor the Interna-

It was at Mrs. Stillman's suggestion that McCormick entered the Harvester plant as a worker in overalls five years ago. She said at the time:

"I told him he must know something about the busniess if he ever intended to run it."

At that time Mrs. Stillman said she had an "intellectual love" affair with Fowler, but they had no considered marriage. "We have been too good friends for that," she said. "And five years from now, wouldn't it be ridiculous for a woman of 50 —and I am not imperishable, you know—to be the wife of a young man of 32."

Trust Fund Established.

NEW YORK, June 6—(I. N. S.)—James A. Stillman's last gesture before sailing for Europe today on the White Star liner Olympic was to establish a $3,000,000 trust fund for his four children.

While his vivacious former wife, Anne, was honeymooning with her youthful new husband, Fowler McCormick, an attorney was drawing up the document under which the four Stillman children will receive $750,000 each.

The former Mrs. Stillman will receive not a single penny under the arrangement, but it was pointed out today that her marriage to young McCormick has eliminated the necessity for financial consideration.

There is already a $10,000,000 trust fund in favor of the four Stillman children. That was established by their paternal grandfather, James Stillman, and their father is the trustee.

Saturday Finals By Eastridge Ladies

First and second flight finals in the ladies' championship handicap tournament at Eastridge club were played Saturday morning. Mrs. E. B. Anderson was the first flight winner, defeating Mrs. E. W. Holland, two and one. Mrs. Anderson carded 47-54—101, while Mrs. Holland scored 54-66—120.

In the second flight finals, Mrs. C. E. Brown won from Mrs. O. V. Hough, five and four.

America Just Beginning To Study Fine Architecture Says Magonigle In Speech At University Exhibit

An architectural exhibition by candlelight is a novel if not altogether ideal arrangement, but when the University of Nebraska power plant developed electrical trouble and the entire university campus was left in darkness Friday evening, just such an exhibition was held.

It was a display by students in the department of architecture, which was formed last fall with Harry F. Cunningham as its head. Professor Cunningham formerly was associated with Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue, architect of the Nebraska capitol, and when the latter died in 1924, leaving rather elementary designs for the capitol tower, Professor Cunningham was the man who completed the work.

Professor Cunningham, in introducing H. Van Buren Magonigle to the 200 guests, declared that he considered him the greatest architect in America today.

Architecture Touches Life.

Mr. Magonigle, who received a honorary degree from the University of Nebraska at commencement Saturday, spoke briefly, addressing his remarks primarily to the architecture students.

"Architecture touches life at every point," he declared. "We are born in it; we live in it; our streets are lined with examples of it; and usually we die in it. Possibly it is because we are so completely enveloped by it that we have shown such an apathy for fine architecture. It is just today in America that we are beginning to study fine architecture.

"You students of Professor Cunningham, who live in the shadow of the great capitol tower, have unlimited opportunities for the study of architecture. In addition to your classroom work, you may visit this great building, which I consider one of the very few examples of modern architecture, if not architecture itself. There you will see splendid color, splendid design, and splendid sculpture. Architecture after all is nothing more than a problem in color and design. And in the capitol this has been handled masterfully, while the sculpture has been used so judiciously that it is impossible to tell where architecture leaves off and sculpture begins.

Embodies Goodhue's History.

"This capitol to me embodies Mr. Goodhue's entire artistic history. I can see in it his love for Persia and for the Gothic. There are traces of the Egyptian and the Assyrian in it, yet its style is distinctly its own. It isn't classic, although it is more imbued with the classic spirit than almost any building I know.

"Mr. Goodhue and I were friends. We were boys together—that is, boys at the same time, for he lived in Boston, and I in New York. He was a man of great artistic integrity. His building is an example of this integrity, a thing often lacking in architecture today. Like Mr. Goodhue, you young men and women must have ideals. You'll have to fight hard for them throughout your careers."

MRS. ADAMS, 81, DIES SATURDAY

Had Lived In State Since 1885; Funeral Will Be Monday.

Mrs. Emma Adams, 81, a resident of Nebraska since 1885, was taken by death at 4:30 o'clock Saturday morning at her home, 931 D street.

Mrs. Adams came to Nebraska

MRS. EMMA ADAMS.

from Wisconsin and settled in Madison county. A few years later she came to Lincoln where she had since resided.

She was a member of the First Plymouth church, O. E. S., and St. Leger Cowley chapter, D. A. R.

Surviving are a daughter Miss Jennie B. Adams, two sons, George J. Adams and Walter S. Adams, all of Lincoln; two sisters, Mrs. R. E. Rouse of Meadow Grove, and Mrs. Jane A. Newberry of Lewellen; and and a brother, A. N. Snider of Lincoln.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at Wadlow's chapel with Rev. B. F. Wyland officiating. Interment in Wyuka. Pallbearers will be: Landy Clark, H. J. Whitmore, M. R. Tinsley, Oscar W. Olson, E. G. Bivins and J. E. Heelan.

CRETE MAN GETS AWARD FOR THUMB INJURY IN PRESS

These orders have been made by Governor Bryan and announced by Deputy State Labor Commissioner Matthews in compensation cases recently heard:

Crete—Wilber Ramsey, employed by Douglas Manufacturing Co.; lost both thumbs in a punch press in August, 1930; awarded $8.80 a week for 132 weeks.

Lincoln— H. F. Bock, carpenter, employed by Olson Construction Co.; injured a finger in September, 1930; allowed $15 a week for 12½ weeks to cover 35 per cent loss of the member's use.

Fremont—Oscar E. Grover, employed by Fremont Foundry & Machine Co., allowed $14.65 per week for 7½ weeks, for 50 per cent permanent injury to his right little finger, and $189 for medical and rospital service. J. Brewer, working for Luehrs Lumber Co., allowed $8 a week for 147 more weeks, in addition to $15 a week for 147 weeks already paid on account of permanent partial disability from an accident which occurred in April, 1928.

Petitions Dismissed.

A number of requests for compensation have been disallowed and dismissed, among them the following:

Herman Robinson, employe of the Great Western Sugar Co., Scottsbluff, re-injury to hernia suffered in 1928, claimed.

Elihu H. Welton, an employee of Swift & Co., at Ashland, suffered a strained back October 11, 1925. His widow, Nellie Welton, field a petition for compensation November 18, 1930, the husband having died in 1929. Statute of limitations barred her claim.

Ora Drum, an employee of Morton Gregson, of Nebraska City, asked compensation for 13 days' illness from inhaling fumes from a blow torch. No accident occurred.

George Bartlett, employed by Arthur Eaton, at Lincoln, was injured November 8, 1929. He was paid compensation for 9 weeks' disability. Petition for further compensation dismissed on the ground that his present condition is not the result of his 1929 injuries.

George B. Moran doing road construction work for E. L. Marrs, at Whitman, July 18, 1930, suffered an injury to his finger. He was paid $90 compensation. Nothing further due.

MAN ARRESTED AT M'COOK WILL BE TAKEN TO KANSAS

An extradition warrant was issued Saturday from the governor's office directing that Max Wood, under arrest at McCook, be delivered to the custody of G. L. Stephens, an officer from Oberlin, Kas., to be taken there for trial on a charge of grand larceny.

The information alleges that on February 20, Wood and another man stole some clothing, canned goods, a shotgun, a revolver, a quantity of dressed meats, a razor, and a pair of barber scissors from a house at the place named. Most of these goods, valued at $130, were recovered later in a house at McCook where Wood was living, after the second man had conferred and told the aKnsas authorities where they would find the stuff.

Cochran Reports Beneficial Rains In Platte Valley

Splendid rains in the dry areas of the North Platte valley in western Nebraska were reported by Roy Cochran, secretary of the department of public works, Saturday, on his return from an inspection of highway work in the vicinity of North Platte.

The rains in that territory were much needed, he said, with abundant moisture being received Thursday and Friday in many localities.

Road work was reported progressing nicely.

DATE FIXED FOR EXAMINATION OF BAR CANDIDATES

Next examinations for admission to the bar in Nebraska will be conducted under Supreme court auspices Monday, June 29.

Heavy admissions to the bar this week end carried graduates of the state' two major law schools into bar membership. They are allowed to practice without further examination on graduation from their law colleges. Others take written examinations to qualify for admission.

Honor Class of Uni. Roundup Holds Breakfast

Members of the class of 1911 of the University of Nebraska assembled at the home of A. A. Dobson, 3140 Sheridan boulevard, Saturday morning for the class breakfast. Forty alumni enjoyed the renewal of acquaintances of the class of twenty years ago, the honored group of the annual Round-up celebration at the university.

Some of the group came from distant points. Several saw, for the first time since their graduation, classmates from nearly every walk of life.

The guests were seated at small tables for the breakfast.

Following were among those who attended: Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Dobson, Kate Field, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Dr. and Mrs. Torrence Moyer, R. M. Latsch, Mrs. E. A. Boostrom, Mrs. Grace Richards Hansen, Mary Ellen Brown, H. J. Gramlich, Herbert Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton O. Rost, Mrs. Berniece Prickett, Guy Reed, Berna Miskell, Mabel Wolcott Wilder, B. Clifford Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rathbone, Walter C. Weiss, Arthur N. Oberfelder, Vic Friend, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ball, Dale P. Stough, E. E. Lackey, Victor Krause, Cozette M. Brannon, Florence Brainard and Pearl Barton.

BERLIN APPEAL SAYS LIMIT HAS BEEN REACHED

against which other nations are raising increasingly higher barriers in the fierce war for world markets.

"We are often told that Germany has not economized enough," the appeal said. "At the present juncture that is not true. Including today's decrees we have saved 1,500,000,000 marks (about $345,000,000) in expenses, and so far as we can see now our 1931 budget is balanced."

Under No Illusions.

The government is under no illusions regarding the severity of the sacrifices demanded from the nation and its citizens, the appeal said, but these are unavoidable.

"It is better to take from those who have than to risk discovering some day that we cannot meet our liabilities. We have done everything possible to meet them, and have taken up much foreign capital; but this is no longer possible."

BANK INTERVENES PROTECT INTEREST IN GAGE COMPANY

The Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Co. of New York was granted permission Saturday morning by Federal Judge T. C. Munger to intervene in the suit of Robert Gordon and other Chicago bankers against the Gage County Electric Co. to collect a note for $185,000. Dismissal of the suit is asked in the petition of intervention filed immediately afterwards.

The New York institution holds practically all of the stock of the Nebraska utility company as collateral for a $983,000 bond issue, and asserts that if judgment is rendered on the note and execution levied on the physical plant of the Gage County Electric Co., the stock will become valueless.

The intervention further alleges, that the officers of the defendant corporation have made an inadequate and incomplete defense in the pending suit, making it necessary for the New York bank to step in to protect its interests.

NEW ORTHOPEDIC HEAD SELECTED

named as superintendent, conditional upon his passing the Nebraska basic science examination. He failed to meet the required test and the position again became vacant.

Dr. Finkle, who held it some years ago, is now acting as the regular physician at the penitentiary and the men's reformatory and conducting his private practice in Lincoln. At the board of control's request, he consented to fill in as acting superintendent at the orthopedic institution until the board could find some one else.

Explains Situation.

In explaining why the board of control again went outside Nebraska to get a superintendent, H. S. Thorpe said that when the vacancy occurred that fact was widely published in the newspapers and medical journals but no applications were received from physicians in Nebraska who appeared eligible and qualified by experience for the place. The board would have been glad to give the preference to a Nebraska man, he said, if it had known of anyone who could fit into the position.

Negotiations with Alcorn were entered into early in March, and he has made several visits to Lincoln since then. The board satisfied itself as to his qualifications and arranged a month or more ago for him to take charge, provided he could meet the requirements of the Nebraska law.

Many Endorsements

The board has recently heard from one or two Nebraska men possessing the qualifications needed for the orthopedic superintendency, but it had already made a tentative contract with Alcorn before they applied.

Mr. Thorpe said that numerous endorsements for Alcorn had been received and that his college and examination grades were very favorable. His name appears on a list of persons who passed the basic science examination given May 5 and6, given out Saturday by Superintendent Bartholomew of the state health bureau.

Wolman Criticises Compensation Plan

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 6—(AP)—Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, charged in an address last night that the federal government was making a profit from adjusted compensation legislation.

Wolman said he was prepared to go before the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee and offer proof that the government is borrowing money at fro mi to 3½ per cent and in turn lending it to veterans at 4½ per cent.

RODMAN ATTACKS BRYAN MESSAGE

Says Governor Mislead Public In Call To Solons.

Charging that Governor Bryan intentionally designed his proclamation calling for a special session of the legislature in such a way as to mislead the public, Senator James A. Rodman, Omaha, has written the governor a letter criticising the tone of the proclamation and questioning Bryan's assertion of willingness to co-operate with the legislature in the passage of the appropriations measure.

The letter follows:

"I have your letter of the 1st accompanying your proclamation calling a special session of the legislature, which letter reads as follows, towit:

No time in the history of the state has it been more important than now that the tax burden should be considered from the ability of the producers of the state to pay rather than from the exploded theory that prosperity can be restored by a large expenditure of the taxpayers' money. I am endeavoring to work out a budget that will give the necessary support to each and every institution and spending agency that must have it regardless of financial conditions.

The special session will cost the taxpayers upwards of two thousand dollars a day and the fewer days required the better feeling it will promote throughout the state. I will personally be glad to see you when you return and hope that my co-operation will enable the legislature to pass the necessary appropriation bills in one day's time.

Claims Issue Dodged.

"It seems to me that the first paragraph of your letter is clearly a dodge of the issue. The question is not, will prosperity be restored to the state by a large expenditure of the taxpayers' money? The question is shall we appropriate sufficient money to maintain the unfortunate wards of the state of Nebraska who are your responsibility and mine?

"Shall we provide housing facilities for fifty applicants for the home for dependent children who have no place to rest their heads at the present time? Shall we provide additional housing facilities at Hastings for seventy-five feeble-minded girls who are entitled to admission to the institution but who are unable to get in for want of housing capacity? Shall we provide additional space in the insane hospitals, all of which are full at the present time?

"That situation is so bad that we have been compelled in numerous instances in the state to house persons in the county jails who have been adjudged insane, when they should be placed in an institution that is equipped to give them professional care and attention needed. Shall we provide for a new building at the School for the Deaf where more than one hundred deaf boys and girls are now sleeping on the third floor in a fifty-one year old building that has been condemned for fifteen years?

Abolish State Fair?

"Shall we continue to operate the state fair at Lincoln, which is known to be the largest eight day state fair in America, a fair that is patronized by four hundred thousand persons? Can the state afford to abolish it?

"You state, 'I am endeavoring to work out a budget that will give the necessary support to each and every institution and spending agency that must have it regardless of financial conditions.' Do you admit by that statement that your original budget, which you claimed to be 100 per cent bullet-proof and which you claimed was the result of a careful and thorough investigation, was not adequate, and that your supplemental budget offered three months later, when you recommended a boost of $500,000, was still not adequate?

Rules of Houses.

"Is not the concluding sentence of your letter designed to mislead the public? Are you not sufficiently acquainted with regular legislative procedure, as well as the importance of the matters involved in the budget itself, to know that the legislature could not pass the necessary appropriation bills in one day's time? In the first place, do not the rules of both bodies of the legislature require that a bill be read on three separate days before finally passed?

"Next, do not the rules of the legislature require, and the law, for that matter, that an appropriation bill must be introduced in the house of representatives, referred to the proper standing committee and reported back by that committee before any action is taken on it by the house? Can the house of representatives in a day's time decide the expenditure of $15,000,000? Are you not aware of the fact that even the clerical work of engrossing and enrolling of the bill could not be done in one day's time?

"Are you not further aware of the fact that the bill must go through the same procedure in the senate after it has been disposed of by the house? Do you believe that a hundred and thirty-three men should be unanimous on the items of the state-wide appropriation bill when you yourself have given out three different opinions on it by three separate recommendations to the legislature?

Co-Operation Or Coercion?

"You call attention to your co-operation with the legislature. Does the definition of co-operation include the word veto? Does your definition of co-operation also include the right on the part of the governor to have from three to four politicians on the front of every legislator trying to get him to adopt the plan of the governor? Might you not well have added the word coercion to the word co-operation so that your letter would read with the governor's co-operation and coercion?

"You state in your proclamation that you are calling a special session of the legislature 'on account of an unusual condition caused by the regular session of the forty-seventh Nebraska lecislature failing to make the necessary appropriations for the biennium.' As a matter of fact, the legislature did pass the necessary appropriations by a vote of fifty-three members in the house and a vote of three-fifths of the members of the senate, so that that appropriation bill would now be in full force and effect except for the lack of your recommendation and approval.

"Isn't it a little bit presumptuous to lay the blame upon the legislature? Might the joint judgment of a majority of a hundred and thirty-three men not be equally as good as that of one man?"

4-H CLUB WEEK DELEGATES GO HOME SATURDAY

The sixteenth annual 4-H club at the agricultural college came to a close Saturday morning when the 400 boys and girls started for their homes in all corners of the state. By noon most of the youths were well on their way home, going by bus, auto and train.

Friday was spent in Omaha visiting various industries. Though they encountered wet weather, the club members enjoyed the trip. They went by special train, arriving back in Lincoln late Friday evening. The Omaha Chamber of Commerce banqueted the 400 boys and girls.

L. I. Frisbie, state boys and girls club leader, and his staff of assistants were busy Saturday morning checking the club members out and making sure that all were getting started home. The boys and girls slept in ag hall, ag engineering and the student activities buildings during their week's stay at the college.

RULES PREPARED FOR NEW UNIFORM BREAD LOAF LAW

Proposed regulations for handling the new uniform bread loaf law enacted by the last legislature have been prepared by the department of agriculture and are ready for submission to Governor Bryan for approval, before issuing instructions to the bakers.

A two ounce tolerance is contemplated under the temporary draft of the rules. This figure, according to department officials, met with approval of most of the bakers present at a conference Friday afternoon discussing provisions of the law and methods of administering it.

Pershing Medal Awarded to Hahn

CARL HAHN

The Pershing medal for the outstanding student-soldier in the University of Nebraska graduating class was awarded to Carl Hahn of Twin Falls, Ida., at commencement exercises Saturday morning. The medal, which is given by General John Pershing, was pinned on Hahn by Miss May Pershing. Hahn was a major in the university R. O. T. C. this year and has been active in school affairs.

COUNTY COFFERS DROP FROM 1930

Nearly $180,000 Less For Peak Period of Tax Payments.

At the peak point of the year, Lancaster county coffers showed a balance for May 29 of $177,866.66 less than that on hand for the corresponding date a year ago. Because of the payment of real estate taxes, the balance at the end of each May is always higher than at any time of the year.

The effect of the collection of these taxes is shown in the fact that the balance jumped from $670,657.47 on April 30 to $1,052,262 at the close of May. Last year at the end of the fifth month, the county had on hand $1,230,129.45.

Where there was 197,035.41 in the county general fund a year ago there is now $124,447.72. Twelve months ago the county highway fund held $139,977.04. Saturday it had a balance of $83,450.23. One of the few funds to show an increase is the district school fund which now contains $379,798.74 in comparison to $357,934.12 a year ago. A year ago the county bridge fund showed a balance of $41,120.77. Now it has $50,892.13.

The May, 1931 balance follows:

State general, $134 078 19; state capitol, $13,892 10; state motor vehicle operators license, $70.75; state land, $7,318 81; state hail, $37; state highway supervision, $149.30; state highway maintenance, $1,747.17; state bond fund, $15 60.

County highway fund, $83,450.23; county general, $124,447 72; county bridge, $50,892 13; soldier relief, $2,746.62; village road fund, $4,832.59; sanitary district No. 1, $85,811.36; district school, $379,798 74.

Cities and villages $51,592.77; interest, $32,392.60; fines and licenses, $2,119 17; redemptions, $4,669 96; fees, $4,884.35; inheritance, $51,511 34; Oak creek drainage, $785 98; county paving fund, $300 45; county paving, $13,732 42; 1931 taxes, $76 24.

Palladian Banquet Is Attended By 75

Toasts Given By T. F. A. Williams, Prof. Chauncey Smith and Peter Hornby.

The annual banquet of the University Palladian society held Friday evening at Palladian hall in the Temple building as part of the Nebraska roundup program, was attended by seventy-five active and alumni members of the group. Following the dinner, entertainment consisted of musical numbers, informal toasts, and impersonations of alumni members.

Miss Grace Hyatt was the toastmistress, and called for responses from T. F. A. Williams, Prof. Chauncey Smith, and Peter Hornby. Music during the dinner hour was supplied by an instrumental trio composed of Miss Chesta Fisher, Bertram Ellsworth, and Edward Fisher. In addition to several vocal solos by Harold Hollingsworth, accompanied by Mrs. J. L. Thomas, a group of the active Palladian society sang selections from an operetta, "In India."

One of the main entertainment attractions of the program was a number of impersonations by members of the Palladian Links, alumnae organization. Subjects of the impersonations included: Prof. F. A. Stuff, Prof. Chauncey Smith, Prof. and Mrs. H. C. Filley, Charles M. Skiles, Prof. Laurence Fossler, and Flora Bullock.

Those appearing in the skit under the direction of Miss Margaret Connell, were: Bernice Pardee, Mrs. Marcus Weldon, Mrs. Walter Blore, Mrs. Louise Bitney, Miss Lorena Plotz, Miss Sharlet Wolford, and Ethel Saxton.

City Briefs

Asks Divorce—A petition for divorce from John O. Bell was filed in District court Saturday by Hattie J. Bell. She charges cruelty. They were married here, February 5, 1914.

Lump Sum Settlement— District Judge Shepherd late Friday approved settlement for $3,000 of compensation claims held by Josephine Morris against the Arrow Aircraft and Motor Corp. in connection with the death of her husband, Ray E. Morris. The husband was killed in an airplane accident, October 19, 1919 while employed by the defendant company. There was a controversy as to whether Mrs. Morris, who was suing her husband for divorce on a charge of abandonment when he was killed, was entitled to compensation. The court held that Bonnie May Morris, a daughter of Ray Morris, was entitled to no compensation as she had been adopted by Kansas people prior to the death of her father.

Rain Floods Sewers— Numerous complaints kept the city's sewer workers busy Friday keeping sewers open to take care of the heavy rain. Considerable difficulty from clogged catch-basins was reported, largely due to the washing down of cut grass piled at curbs by home-owners. Trouble due to inadequate sewers was almost entirely confined to districts for which provision is made in the 10 year sewer program for which the people approved the appropriation of $50,000 annually, last August 12.

Ask Water Supply—Application for water for the new Sigma Chi fraternity house at 1510 Vine street was filed with the city clerk Saturday morning.

Sweeper Bids Received—Bids for the new street sweeper for the city street department opened by the city clerk Saturday morning are as follows: Geiger and Putney, $5,124.50; Elgin Sweeper Co., $6,487.60; and Allied Western Road Work Co., $5,040 72. The new machine will make three in the street department's shop.

Rain Damages Park— Friday's heavy rains washed out a section 10 feet wide and about three feet deep on the dam in the lake in the western part of Pioneers park and caused slight damage to the road and flowers in Pioneers.

LEAD RETAINED BY ROSE FLYNN

Lucille Royce Climbs To Fourth in "Miss Victory" Contest.

Today's standings in the "Miss Victory" competion find Rose Flynn retaining her lead. Again La Vern Goldstein is second.

But the rain failed to dampen the spirits of the candidates and from third place on down the list there was plenty of action. Lucille Royce broke a tie with Dorothy Andersen and climbed into fourth place. She took in 400 votes to accomplish the feat.

Up five positions rose Babe Walters to ninth. An additional three hundred votes to her credit kept Helen Wheeler secure in third place —for the time being.

A few hours of sunshine, though, may find leaders and followers on a whirl that will shift positions from top to bottom.

Chairman C. L. Clark of the Legion committee says: "Around the "Siege of 1918" headquarters is growing an air of expectancy such as that experienced in the trenches as "zero hour" came. To date no one candidate has consistently, day by day held the lead. Everyone knows that the "big push" is coming and in the end someone will get the Chevrolet sports roadster that goes with the title of "Miss Victory." But the question of who will win right now is keeping twenty girls awake nights."

Standings follow:

Rose Flynn	6,800
La Vern Goldstein	6,000
Helen Wheeler	5,450
Lucille Royce	4,400
Dorothy Andersen	4,000
Connie Amend	3,250
Josephine Arnold	3,100
Billie Combs	3,050
Babe Walters	2,700
Bonnie Holms	2,650
Alma Jobst	2,300
Gladys Soukup	2,250
Florence Lantz	2,200
Mary Freeman	2,200
Gladys Nichols	1,650
Leona Smith	1,600
Alberta Blair	1,350
Lucille Sanders	1,250
Marsena Stephens	1,050
Grayce Johnson	800

Lindy May Fly Near Pole on Orient Flight

Colonel and Wife Study Great Circle Route Across Greenland.

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are considering flying to China and Japan over an eastern route, which would bring them close to the North Pole on a 6,500 mile journey to the orient.

Colonel Lindbergh is studying the possibilities of a great circle course across Greenland and Spitzbergen instead of taking the Bering strait route from the Pacific coast.

He is making inquiries as to fuel and supply bases and stores along that northehrn route. The whole plan is in a formative stage.

At North Beach airport, Queens, mechanics installing pontoons have been ordered to put a water rudder on Lindbergh's Lockheed plane. The equipment under consideration includes a tent, a rubber boat, two months food supply and radio apparatus.

The northern-great circle route has been flown three times by the army round-the-world fliers; Von Gronau, who made it last year in a Dornier flying boat, and by Parker Cramer and Bert Hassell of Rockford, Ill., who lost their plaine in a wreck in Greenland.

RACKETEER SHOT TO DEATH WHILE SEATED IN AUTO

BRADFORD, Pa., June 6—(AP)—Police were seeking Tony Lorenzo, a baker, today for questioning in connection with the slaying of Al Ritchie, whose career included activities on both sides of the law, as a bootlegger and as a county police officer.

He was killed yesterday by a man who fired through the open window of a parked car in which Ritchie and Tony Maccio were seated talking to a third man, Lorato Sarandrea, who stood at the curb. Ritchie was shot three times in the head. Maccio suffered two wounds in the back and is in a serious condition.

A long chain of racket murders was being linked together by authorities as they sought solution of the slaying. Material for a book Ritchie planned to write, in which he was to describe gang killings on the Pennsylvania-New York border, was sought in the hope that it might throw light on his murder.

BAPTISTS REJECT BIRTH CONTROL

Criticise Federal Council For Favorable Stand On Question.

KANSAS CITY, June 6—(AP)—The Northern Baptist convention turned to the subject of missions and elections today after declaring its stand on the birth control report of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

A resolution criticizing the council and disclaiming any approval by the convention of the council's report was adopted yesterday. No action was taken, however, on a proposal to reduce by $2,240 the convention's annual appropriation to the federal council. The measure was referred to the finance committee.

LUNCHEON FOR GUESTS OF UNL

Soares and Recipients Of Honorary Degrees Are Entertained.

University of Nebraska commencement exercises were followed by a luncheon Saturday noon at the University club at which the commencement orator and recipients of honorary degrees were guests of honor. One hundred fifty attended the affair.

Dean J. E. LeRossignol presided. Dr. Theodore G. Soares, the commencement speaker, gave a short talk.

Two Banks Taken Over Saturday By State Department

Two more banks were closed Saturday, on the initiative of their officers and directors, and turned over to the state banking department. They were the Farmers' State bank of Mason City and the First State bank at St. Edward.

The suspended institution at Mason City formerly had deposits of $200,000, but that amount had been greatly reduced during the past several months. C. B. Lauridsen was its president W. D. Redmond vice president, and A. D. Erickson cashier. The capitalization was $20,000. Examiner J. Y. Castle is in charge.

FLIERS EXPECTED STOP OVERNIGHT

Arrangements Are Being Made To Entertain Reliability Tour.

For the second time within four years Lincoln will be host to a national air tour, if officials sponsoring the National Air Reliability tests accept an invitation to stop overnight here July 21. Harry B. Sidles who is conducting the negotiations, said Saturday afternoon that acceptance is practically assured.

The formal invitation was telegraphed Friday afternoon by Sidles to Capt. Ray Collins, Detroit, manager of the tour, following Sidles' selection to head the Lincoln Aero club's committee on arrangements for the visit.

Captain Collins had previously assured Sidles that the tour would halt in Lincoln if the city wanted to assume the responsibility of entertaining the sixty-five visiting airmen who will make up the party. The Lincoln Aero club, affiliated with the National Aeronautics association, voted to make the effort, and named Sidles president of the Sidles Airways corporation, chairman of the committee.

He immediately sent a telegram to Capt. Collins extending the invitation and saying that local business men would assume responsibility for the entertainment and expense incurred. A conference is being planned for Monday with the executive committee of the chamber of commerce for the purpose of interesting local business men in the event and having the enterprise underwritten by them.

Although definite arrangements for the entertainment are yet to be made, Mr. Sidles said Saturday that a banquet will be given in honor of the visitors. This will be the second visit by such a group of fliers, the tour having stopped here four years ago when traveling as the Ford Reliability tourists.

A MOB ENTERS U. S. CONSULATE

Santiago Crowd Breaks Door, Seeking Protection From Police.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, June 6—(I. N. S.)—The American consulate here was broken into today by a mob of hungry and anti-government demonstrators who were fleeing from troops and police.

The consulate door was broken down by the leaders of the mob who were seeking protection from the police and troops, but no other damage was done. Vice Consul Harry W. Story finally prevailed upon the leaders to leave the building, but not before a number of them had used threatening language when informed the consulate could not afford them protection from the police.

OMAHA WOMEN TO LINCOLN SUNDAY

OMAHA, June 6—(AP)—Seventy-three women of the Omaha chamber of commerce, women's division, and their escorts, will go to Lincoln tomorrow for an all-day visit, to include a trip through the new capitol. The party is scheduled to arrive in Lincoln at 11 a. m., will first visit the college of agriculture and then will go to the main campus of the state university. A dinner will conclude the visit.

FIREMEN RESCUE TWO TRAPPED IN BURNING BUILDING

OMAHA, June 6—(AP)—Trapped by dense smoke on the second floor of the Western Petroleum company warehouse here today when fire broke out, two workmen were carried down ladders to safety by firemen. The men rescued were O. N. Lyberg, Omaha, watchman, and Homer Noar, Venice, Neb.

GLASS PALACE RAZED.

MUNICH, Germany, June 6—(AP)—Munich's treasured glass palace and a collection of valuable paintings being shown at the annual art exhibition were destroyed early today by fire, believed by authorities to be of incendiary origin. Forty pictures were salvaged, but the majority, contributed by internationally known artists, were lost. The damage was estimated in millions of marks. Dozens of men and women artists stood by with tears in their eyes as their canvases went up in smoke.

About People

Charles Matson returned Friday evening from Los Angeles, where he has been on legal business for the past two weeks. Mr. Matson on the outgoing trip flew from Kansas City to Los Angeles, making the flight in 14 hours. He expressed himself as "delighted" with the convenience and comfort of the long journey by air.

A son was born June 5 to Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Allan, 2526 Worthington street.
